ANOTHER BALLOT FOR SPEAKER FAILS TO BREAK DEADLOCK

Republican Insurgents Plan Fight to Finish in House—Will Continue to Block Organization Unless G. O. P. Leaders Yield on Rules—Deadlock Continues

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Another ballot for speaker in the house today failed to break the deadlock, no candidate receiving the majority necessary for election.

Fight to Finish
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A fight to the finish is threatened by the score of republican insurgents of the house who prevented organization yesterday of the 68th congress at its opening session having blocked the re-election of Speaker Gillett on four ballots, the progressive bloc after a conference last night, announced formally that it would renew its battle with the convention of the House at noon today and wage it indefinitely unless Republican organization leaders gave assurance that the house would have full opportunity to vote on amendments to its rules.

EXPERT ON COAL DISTRIBUTION ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB

An all-star program featured today's Rotary dinner at the club rooms on Dutton street. It was a double-deck celebration in fact, for heading the features in close formation at a private dining table in the center of the hall were the four beaming past presidents—Dr. Herbert Davis, H. Hutchins Parker, Robert M. Thomson and Harry G. Pollard.

Past President Parker occupied the chair at the after-dinner exercises, retired to the guests' tables for refreshment. President Davis, in a businesslike, clearly defined advertising cards were distributed right and left. Tickets are selling rapidly for the benefit entertainment, for all profits go to the Lowell Boys' club.

The event is to be held in the Memorial auditorium, Friday evening, December 28. About 2,000 is an active salesman of the two-dollar pasteborder this week.

Herbert W. Horne was chairman for the afternoon meeting today, after Past President Parker had called the "coal dealers' roll" in an impressive manner and the following gentlemen responded to the presentation colors: F. H. Bourke, Harry L. Stanley, G. T. Fawcett, M. H. Mullin, Joseph Kaplan, Herbert Tullin White, E. A. Wilson and ex-Mayor Perry D. Thompson.

George Cushing of Washington, an expert student of American coal conditions, declared upon some of the causes of high-priced anthracite coal. He revealed many interesting facts not generally known to the public at large. He declared the state of Pennsylvania and the Interstate Commerce commission were responsible for high-priced coal in New England and inadequate supplies also. "The United Mine workers," he said, "controlled all anthracite output and exacted $17,000,000 in tolls each year to maintain union organization and keep up wages, all of which retarded the mining of coal."

The speaker declared that there is plenty of coal—that it will be 10,000 years before all of it is mined in the United States. We have touched but one-half of one per cent of the total coal in the ground, he said, and there are still 4,000,000,000,000 tons to come out. He declared that the properties made by "experts" that all anthracite coal would be mined within ten years from now, were false.

In one Pennsylvania mine where 600 miners are employed, more than 100 automobiles are of this number. Miners can earn as high as $100 in five days. Some of them walk out when they earn enough money and return at their leisure.

Mr. Cushing declared that the interstate commerce commission of only 11 is using its authority to keep up the conditions in Pennsylvania, uphold the sway of organized labor and prevent the free employment of railroad cars to meet the New England demands for fuel.

LOWELL CASES IN THE SUPREME COURT
(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Before Justice Charles A. Deane in the supreme court here today, City Solicitor E. J. Reynolds for the city of Lowell, completed pleadings on the petition of William W. Bennett, master of Charles W. Morley school, for a writ of mandamus to compel the Lowell school committee to reinstate him as master of the Green badge evening school. By agreement of counsel the case was continued for argument to Dec. 18, two weeks from today.

Similar disposition was accorded upon the writ of certiorari to which Attorney-General Boston permitted the use of his name. This writ questions the authority of the Lowell city council to close Worthen street for the benefit of the Saco-Lowell shops, a private industrial corporation.

DIVER ATTACKED TO SHOOT TO BY HUGE OCTOPUS KILL ON SIGHT

Monster Did Not Relinquish Embrace Until Man's Comrades Cut it to Pieces
TOULON, France, Dec. 4.—A diver working on the submerged wreck of the French battleship Liberte, was attacked yesterday by a huge octopus which did not relinquish its manifold embrace until the man's comrades had cut it to pieces.

The diver, Jean Negri, fought desperately with the monster under water for some time. He was finally able to free one arm and plunged his trident into the body of the creature. The octopus, however, held fast, whereupon Negri gave the signal to be hauled up. When his companions saw the writhing monster emerge they were panic-stricken, but the plight of their comrade appeared so serious that they went to his aid and freed him with their knives.

BREAKING AND ENTERING
Ferdinand Cote Pleads Guilty of Breaking and Entering and Larceny
Ferdinand Cote, 23, who was arrested by Lieut. Maher, Sergt. Dwyer and Officer Lapan yesterday noon for alleged breaking and entering and larceny, was arraigned in district court this morning and pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the store of Joseph Shonker in Lawrence street, and stealing a quantity of cigars, cigarettes and money, which were found in his lodging house in Merrimack street at the time of his arrest. To allow the police to investigate other breaks believed to be traceable to Cote, defendant was continued in bonds of $1000 until Dec. 11.

Joseph Welch, 17, suspected of being an accomplice in the alleged thefts, is being held as a wayward boy and will appear in court next Friday.

CRUISER SEIZED IN GUN BATTLE

Motor Cruiser Herreshoff Captured Off Port Reading, N. J., After Running Fight With Riot Guns and Revolvers Used in Clash Between Crew and Customs Agents
NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The motor cruiser Herreshoff was seized by customs agents off Port Reading, N. J., today, after a running battle with riot guns and revolvers. Six men on the cruiser were arrested.

Patrolling in a speed boat, the customs agents hailed the Herreshoff, suspected of rum running. The cruiser was turned seaward and she slowed her heels, with bullets flying from the guns in the hands of her crew, the agents said.

During the fire, the government tug Albatross and the cruiser, drew alongside and placed a boarding party on her as she ran at full speed. The government agents said the cruiser's cargo had been jettisoned and was drifting alongside.

A short hand-to-hand engagement had aboard the cruiser, according to the agents' report.

WILL HOLD HEARING ON OLD AGE PENSION

A commission appointed by Governor Chandler of New York to investigate the advisability of this state providing a pension for the aged was in communication with the mayor's office this morning, in regard to the possibility of holding an open hearing in this city in connection with their work. After explaining the purpose of the hearing it was decided to hold such a hearing in city hall, on either December 12 or 14.

The commission has already held hearings in Boston, Pittsfield, Springfield, Worcester and Lynn, and the members feel that Lowell, as one of the leading industrial cities of the state, should have an opportunity of being heard before any report is made. The purpose of the old-age pension is explained by its name. It is to set aside a certain amount of money in the state treasury to provide for all the aged in the state if they need help, so that they will not become paupers.

If the commission files a favorable report, it is expected that the general court will be requested to take the matter under consideration.

NO TRACE YET OF EVA GOLDIE MAYO
The whereabouts of 16-year-old Eva Goldie Mayo, who has not been seen by relatives or friends since Nov. 15, still remains a mystery. A description of the missing girl has been sent to practically every police head in New England and to private detective agencies.

PLAN FOR SURVEY OF INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS IN NEW ENGLAND

Lowell Chamber of Commerce to Participate in Research Program—Movement for Widespread Investigation of Business Stagnation in the Textile and Other Industries

Lowell chamber of commerce will be asked to participate in a program of research and study of the industrial conditions of New England. The movement for a widespread survey and investigation of the present conditions of the largest industries including the cotton textiles has the backing of four of the many New England business executives, acting through boards of trade.

The present stagnation in some large industrial centers of New England has thoroughly aroused business men, who are convinced that this section of the United States will ultimately lose a good sized piece, acting through boards of trade.

N. Y. MAN WHO IGNORED BLACK HAND THREAT MURDERED

Dominick Maggro Shot Dead Early Today in His Brooklyn Home After His Wife, Three Children and Himself Had Been Chloroformed
NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Dominick Maggro, who laughed three weeks ago when he received a letter signed with a sneaky black hand and demanding money or his life, was shot dead early today in his Brooklyn home after his wife, three children and himself had been chloroformed.

Gas masks, the empty chloroform bottle, the murder gun and the two empty cartridges, were left by the players beside the victim's bed.

CHAS. PONZI SEEKS AID OF PRES. COOLIDGE IN PLEA FOR PARDON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Charles Ponzi of Boston, whose financial operations a few years ago caused a nation-wide sensation and resulted in a jail sentence, has written a President Coolidge making overtures for a pardon.

LOWELL CASE IN UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Dec. 4.—No declarations were filed in the United States district court here today in the case of Comers Bros. and the English Construction Co. against Daniel H. Walker, Lowell contractor, the Lowell high school building commission and the city of Lowell.

L. A. Mayberry, associate counsel for Comers Bros., stated he would take full advantage of the time limit of 10 days which does not expire until tomorrow night.

This action is brought in connection with the construction of the new Lowell high school and all money due contractor Walker is held up pending a settlement of the case.

IS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED BRIBERY

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Listed for trial before Federal Judge Morton in the United States district court here today is the case of Charles Jones of 118 Lewis street, Lowell, charged with attempted bribery.

It is alleged that Jones offered $100 to Federal Agent Walter Sullivan if he would use his influence to prevent prosecution of Ephraim Samuels and John Tsavos of Westford. Agents Sullivan and Hall raided the firm of these two men on July 17, 1923, and confiscated a 75-gallon still.

PLAN TO INVESTIGATE GERMANY'S RESOURCES

PARIS, Dec. 4. (By the Associated Press).—At a conference between Premier Poincaré and Louis Barthou, president of the reparations commission, held last evening, a revised text defining the powers of the expert committees which are to investigate Germany's resources and financial assistance was agreed upon.

This text is worded in a way which reparations circles hope will overcome the objection raised by Secretary of State Hughes to the participation of the United States. Mr. Barthou plans to submit this text to the reparations commission this afternoon and no doubt was expressed that it would be approved.

Alaska has produced nearly half a billion dollars' worth of minerals, and 97 per cent. of this has come from her deposits of gold, copper and silver.

FUNERALS

SHIPLEY—Funeral services for Mrs. Anna G. Shipley were held at her home on Dunstable road, Tyngsboro, yesterday afternoon and were largely attended. Rev. A. C. White, pastor of the Unitarian church of Tyngsboro, officiating. Mrs. H. B. Symonds sang appropriate selections. There were many flowers. The bearers were Herbert A. Worden, Chester A. Worden, John Pearson and Gustav Cederholm. Burial was in the family lot in Drake cemetery in Tyngsboro, where the funeral service was read by Rev. Mr. White. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

BRIEN—The funeral of Joseph Leon Brien, son of Joseph and Minnie (Grimm) Brien, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 125 Summer street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

VESEY—The funeral of Thomas Vesey, infant son of James C. and Ruth (Fletcher) Vesey, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 12 Bradley street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

HAYEN—The funeral of Fred A. Hayen took place from his home in Chelsea yesterday afternoon and services were held in the Central Baptist church with Rev. Charles H. Ellis of the Baptist church and Rev. John G. Lovell of the Congregational church of Chelsea. During the services the selections "Abide With Me" and "When the Angels Have Told Away" were sung by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Plackard. The bearers were Herbert C. Sweetser, Malden W. Cass, George W. Taylor and Charles V. Hazeltine. There were many floral offerings.

MURPHY—The funeral of Charles Murphy, for many years a well known and highly respected resident of the Sacred Heart parish, took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 41 Livingston street, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. Gerald Kennedy, O.M.I. The sanctuary choir, under the direction of Mr. Raymond Kelley, the organist, sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Master Austin Kelly. There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings in testimony of high esteem in which the deceased was held, as well as many spiritual bouquets. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Messrs. Martin Hanbury, Michael Hayes, John Hanbury, Thomas Kirwin, Daniel Lynch and Joseph Masterson. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayer was read at the grave by Rev. Fr. Kennedy, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Donnell & Fay.

MOTHER!

Child's Best Laxative is "California Fig Syrup"

When baby is constipated, has wind-colic, feverish breath, coated tongue, or diarrhea, a half teaspoonful of genuine "California Fig Syrup" promptly moves the bowels, gases, bile, souring food and waste right out. Never cramps or overdoes. Babies love its delicious taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has full directions for infants in arms and children of all ages, plainly printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

MASS NOTICE

FITZGERALD—A month's mind high mass will be celebrated Wednesday morning, Dec. 5 at 8 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church for the repose of the soul of James Fitzgerald.

FITZGERALD FAMILY

China's new president is 60 years of age. Thirty-eight years ago he was a common soldier.

The citizens of Lowell have a duty to perform today in electing two members of the school board who will not be controlled by the anti-Mulloy clique and who will stand for the best interests of the schools.

O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Donnell & Fay.

DEATHS

GALLAGHER—Mrs. Mary Gallagher, a resident of Albany, N. Y., died yesterday at the home of Owen K. McGuire, 150 Elm street, North Billerica, at the age of 77 years. She is survived by her husband, John A. Gallagher, three daughters, Catherine, Margaret and Ruth, and a son, James Gallagher. All of Albany, N. Y. The body was taken to her home in Albany yesterday afternoon by Undertaker William H. Saunders.

HARRIS—The many friends of Mr. W. and Nahulu Harris will regret to hear of the death of their eldest son, James Walter Harris, who died yesterday at the home of his parents, 19 Moore street, aged 19 years, 3 months and 7 days. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Irma and Audrey Harris, and a brother, Arthur Harris, all of this city.

CHANDLER—The late Warren Chandler, who for three years was assistant professor of electrical engineering at the Lowell Textile school, died in Tucson, Ariz., last Friday, Nov. 30. Mr. Chandler resigned his position here last June owing to poor health and returned to the home of his parents at Mount Pleasant, seeking recuperation and rest. About two months ago his doctors advised him to seek a drier climate and he went to Arizona, where he and his mother took an apartment in Tucson. His death was entirely unexpected by friends and relatives in this section of the country, as it was believed that he was improving.

While in Lowell, Mr. Chandler made his home at the residence of Mrs. L. P. Clark, 115 Stevens street, and many friends here through the influence of a quiet, but kindly disposition. He leaves his parents, a sister and a brother in Albany, and several cousins in Somerville. Mr. Chandler was a graduate of Brown university and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He served as a lieutenant of aviation during the World war, and served throughout the time that the United States was in the war.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. at which Rev. Mr. Kelly has been removed. Boston papers possess.

FUNERAL NOTICES

HARRIS—Died in this city, Dec. 3, at 15 Moore street, James Walter Harris, son of W. and Nahulu Harris (Harris) Harris, aged 19 years and 3 months. Funeral services will be held at 19 Moore street on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Kelly will officiate. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker William H. Saunders in charge.

DECHENES—The funeral of Pierre Dechenes will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from his home, 87 Essex street. Solemn high funeral mass will be celebrated at St. Louis church at 9 o'clock. Friends are invited to attend. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

DEVANEY—Died in this city, Dec. 3, at her home, 48 First street, Mrs. Mary (Sullivan) Devaney. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from her home, and there will be a funeral high mass at St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. The arrangements are in charge of Funeral Directors James W. McKenna & Sons.

MCCARTHY—Died at her home, Dec. 2, 186 Highland avenue, Somerville, Bridget McCarthy. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the funeral chambers of Undertakers Higgins Bros. Funeral high mass will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements in charge of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

POPE—Died in Lowell, Dec. 2, Esther Amelia Pope, formerly of Lowell. Funeral Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the home of her sister, Mrs. P. F. Mahoney, 237 Nesmith street. Funeral mass at the Immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Friends invited. Funeral arrangements in charge of Mahoney Bros.

DAILY VACATION

BIBLE SCHOOL

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 4.—The development of the daily vacation bible school as a part of the work of the church was described by the national Presbyterian conference here today by Harold McA. Robinson of Philadelphia, secretary of the division of Christian education in the home, church and community. In 1918, there were only 62 of the vacation schools, he said, organized to keep children occupied under proper conditions, while in 1923 they numbered 1100 and had an enrollment of more than 100,000.

CHURCHILL ATTACKED

Rowdism Continues in British Election Campaign—Automobile Stoned

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) The rowdism that has marked so many political meetings in the present campaign, breaking down and interfering with others, was gave Winston Spencer Churchill a few anxious moments at Walthamstow last evening when the crowd, in a demonstration against him, smashed the window of his automobile. The police were summoned to rescue from personal violence the Liberal candidate in whose behalf Mr. Churchill was speaking. Conservative supporters are reported to have attacked Communist hecklers at Sheffield with the result that a free fight occurred. A Liberal meeting at Oxford, the newspapers learn, was also broken up.

It is necessary to go 200 miles up the Nile before reaching remains of ten-

LAND DEAL UNTAINTED

Sale of Excelsior Springs Properly to Government Upheld as Fair

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Dec. 4.—The committee of three named to make a reappraisal of the Excelsior Spring property sold by E. L. Morse, Missouri republican leader, to the government for a veterans' hospital, early today, unanimously upheld the transaction as fair to both parties.

The decision was announced at the conclusion of an executive session which followed a hearing that extended past midnight. Mr. Morse was on the stand last night and explained in detail the sale of his old homestead and additional property for which the government paid him $118,000.

The commission held that the deal was untainted by the remotest desire on the part of either party to take an unfair advantage. It recommended that the contract between the government and Morse be not disturbed.

PRES. COOLIDGE REMITS CRAIG SENTENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Coolidge's refusal to pardon Charles L. Craig, controller of New York city, while granting him a remission of the 60-day sentence for contempt of court imposed by Federal Judge Mayer, is final, according to administration officials, regardless of whether he accepts the clemency or insists upon serving the term.

Attorney General Daugherty, in making the recommendation on which the president based his action, said Craig seemed "willing, if not desirous to assume the attitude of a martyr." He held, however, that the controller "justly" deserved the sentence and emphasized that its remission should not be in any sense, a vindication. The attorney general found that while the arguments in favor of a pardon presented by the New York board of appointment and estimate were "as unfounded and misleading as was the false, malicious and libelous attack of the defendant upon the court," the remission of sentence was advisable, among other reasons, because of the effect its execution might have on the financial affairs of New York city.

MODERNISTS BRANDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Firing gun after gun at the so-called "modernist" movement in religion and its leaders, including Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick and President W. B. E. DuBois of Brown university, the Baptist fundamentalists today entered the third day of their series of anti-modernist meetings.

Stanching firmly for an absolutely literal interpretation of the Bible, Dr. William Pottrell, dean of the Baptist Bible school in Philadelphia and Dr. T. T. Shields of Toronto, president of the Baptist Union of North America, yesterday branded the modernists as anti-Christian and enemies of the Christian religion.

Dr. Shields said that last week he had refused to attend services at Meadville university at Toronto, when a new chancellor was installed, because President Pottrell was among those to receive honorary degrees. Dr. Shields is a member of the board of governors of the university.

He criticized Dr. Fosdick and Dr. DuBois, declaring that their influence could only bring about the development of conditions here such as obtain in Russia. He said the fight between the fundamentalists and modernists was a real war and that fundamentalists should be prepared to be wounded and to die if necessary, for their cause. He asserted families might be broken up but that no fundamentalist should surrender to members of

SEARCH FOR BODIES OF FLOOD VICTIMS

BERGAMO, Italy, Dec. 4. (By the Associated Press.)—The work of finding the bodies of the 600 or more victims of last week's flood disaster continues over the extended zone devastated by the waters, but the rescue parties are encountering tremendous difficulties. The water has receded, leaving Bergamo valley buried under several feet of mud which the rains keep soft, thus rendering progress almost impossible.

Wallowing through this waste, the searching party makes the best of their way over areas where flourishing villages once stood. Survivors of the disaster follow close behind, hoping against hope that their relatives and friends may still be alive, although only a miracle could have saved them.

ROUNDUP OF STUDENTS OF NATUREOPATHY

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 4.—Three students who gave their former occupations as hod carrier, telegraph messenger and carpenter, respectively, and three young women were in a party of 25 students of the Blumer college of natureopathy, taken before the state's extraordinary grand jury on subpoenas, when County Detective Edward J. Hickey and eight deputy sheriffs visited the institution at 409 Ann street, last night. Dr. Louis Blumer, president of the institution, was also summoned. Dr. Blumer and his students remained under surveillance while they were called into the jury room one at a time, the jury holding its first night session during its probe into alleged medical frauds in this state.

The jury adjourned its session until today, when the investigation was resumed. The roundup of the students of the natureopathy school was the first known attempt to extend the state's probe into the operation of this branch of medical science.

Emigrants assisted under the British empire's settlement act number to date 32,475 to Australia, 4,502 to New Zealand and 385 to Canada.

GIVING GENEROUSLY TO SEMINARY FUND

Lowell Jewish-speaking citizens are contributing most liberally to the support of the Jewish Theological seminary in New York city. Several thousand dollars have been sent already to Rabbi Max Drob, chairman of the seminary's million-dollar endowment fund campaign.

Rabbi Elias Wolfson, who directs the three Lowell synagogues from the rabbinical home, 48 Gate street, stated today that Lowell Jews have done nobly thus far. There have been numerous appeals for financial aid directed toward the seminary during the past year and not one appeal for substantial monetary contributions to Jewish charities has been made in value.

Rabbi Wolfson believes that considering the high cost of living and the demands made on the synagogue members for steady support for local theological and social projects, the Jewish-speaking people of this section of Massachusetts "have responded most satisfactorily to the call from the spiritual and physical ramparts of American Jewry."

The Jewish campaign for the theological seminary project are today much enhanced by an appealing letter just addressed to "The Jews of America" by Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, chief rabbi of the British empire, who says that the seminary campaign should be cordially supported by all Jews, such aid being especially needed at this time "when the forces of reaction and race hatred have joined hands against them."

Dr. Hertz, who is the representative of all the Jews of Great Britain, the Dominion of Canada and the British colonies and possessions, was the first graduate of the Jewish Theological seminary. Following a short incum-bency in Syracuse, N. Y., he was called to Johannesburg, South Africa.

It is expected that an appeal for funds to aid in the construction of a new Jewish hospital in Boston will be made in this city soon.

Every voter worthy of the privileges of American citizenship should go to the polls today and vote for the candidates who will give the most faithful service to the city in the offices to be filled.

Sore Throat, Chest Colds and Coughs Conquered Over Night

Just Rub on a Little Mustardine and Away Goes Backache, Headache,
Pleurisy and Neuralgia

The minute you rub MUSTARDINE for any pain, ache or soreness you'll know that all the misery and agony has started to go. It is very penetrating and won't blister.

Any druggist anywhere will recommend it; praise it; guarantee it. He will tell you that it is better than any liniment, poultice, hot water bottle or ointment.

A 24 cent box of this wonderful discovery will do the work of 50 mustard plasters. In two minutes Backache, Headache, Toothache and Neuralgia vanish.
Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Pleurisy and deep-seated Coughs go over night. Rheumatic sufferers joyfully praise it for the way it speedily stops the agony and reduces the swollen joints.
After all other remedies have failed, Mustardine has overcome the misery caused by Sore Throat, Croup, Laryngitis and Croup. Ask for MUSTARDINE. 20 cents in yellow box. Ad.

M'CORMACK PROGRAM AT THE AUDITORIUM

The program which John M'Cormack will sing at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium on Thursday night is the same one that the great tenor gave last month when he sang to an audience of 12,500 paid admissions in the new Cleveland Auditorium.

The assisting artist for the occasion will be Laura Kennedy, cellist, whom the critics in reviewing M'Cormack's concert speak of most highly. Edwin Schneider, long associated with M'Cormack as an accompanist, will again act in that capacity.

The program is one of great beauty and is skillfully arranged to show the wonderful talents of the great Irish tenor. In addition to the numbers listed below those who attend may anticipate the usual number of encores with the old time favorites, "Mother Mairce," "Tumble Down Shack in Athlone," and others.

The program:

Light Vote In First Two Hours

The city showed more life during the first two hours than was apparent elsewhere, but although it was with booth at Westford and Marlborough streets, might attract a number of morning voters, the total poll was only 75. At 11:45 o'clock, only 22 persons had voted at Precinct 3 of Ward 8 and just before 12 o'clock, the machine at the Ward 1 booth near the Edison school registered only 25. Similar reports were received from other sections of the city.

Despite the fact that very little election talk was heard about the streets, there was an under-current of feeling that Franklin A. Johnson would land one of the school committee places. His name appeared on slates and combinations more often than the other three. From Centralville came word that Mrs. Annie D. Donovan had put in a considerable amount of work which seemed destined to bear results. The absence of contests for ward councilor in Wards 6 and 7 is tending to keep the vote down in those two big districts.

The polls will remain open until 5 o'clock this evening and because of the short ballot and small number of names, it is expected that the complete tabulation will be known at least by 10:30 o'clock.

The only question on the ballot aside from the school board and ward councilor lists is relative to licensing the sale of non-intoxicating beverages. This question was placed on the ballot at the direction of the secretary of state.

The police arrangements for the day call three details of patrolmen to supervise and in all wards except 6, 7 and 8, two officers will be on duty in every precinct until after the votes are counted. In all, 82 men have been detailed by Capt. Thomas H. Atkinson and assigned by the board of election commissioners.

The first detail of 31 men reported at city hall at 8 a.m. and took the voting machines to the polling booths. This detail will remain on duty until 4:15 p.m. A second detail of 31 men reported at precinct locations at 10 a.m. and will remain on duty until all votes are counted and returned to the office of the election commission. A third detail of 20 men will report at designated precincts at 1:15 p.m. and will remain on duty until polls close and ballots are counted from the box.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With it to Restore Color, Gloss,
Youthfulness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By continuing all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

MARDI GRAS IN AID OF CHRISTMAS TREE FUND

Associate hall will be the scene tonight of a merry gathering when the Broadway Social and Athletic club will hold a Mardi Gras carnival in aid of the annual Christmas tree fund.

The committee in charge, working zealously with President William A. Walsh and the other officers, has arranged a very attractive program, one that is bound to give pleasure to old and young.

As the cause for which the affair is being held is a most worthy one, many of the older residents of the Aerie, some of the Broadway club and some of the organization's great welfare work, plan to turn out in large numbers.

The annual Christmas tree exercises of the Broadways are always looked forward to with pleasant anticipation by the youngsters of the neighborhood.

The program calls for a two-day celebration around a huge Christmas tree placed on the North common. The night before, the tree is illuminated and a concert program given. Christmas day, Santa Claus takes charge of the program and distributes gifts and confections to the kiddies.

This year, the Broadways plan to make the affair even a greater success than in previous years and hence the holding of a series of pre-Christmas events, the first of which comes tonight.

Money, candy, tobacco and articles of prepared foods were stolen in the latest midnight store-boosting campaign reported to the Dracut town authorities.

John J. Kiernan and Sons at the Colvilleville postoffice, reports to the police that a side window glass had been expertly cut out. The marauders got away with a roll of 25-cent pieces amounting to $10.

At the variety store in Colvilleville, which this year is New Year's day, the class was removed in a similar way.

Two men were seen to hurry away from this store in the proprietor, who thought the intruders wanted to purchase garbages. An automobile was used by the men who broke into the variety store.

The Atlantic and Pacific grocery store in the Navy Yard district was also visited by thieves and $25 in cash stolen, in addition to a quantity of groceries. A large square panel glass in the front door was cleverly cut out by the marauders.

The Dracut police are investigating nearly a dozen similar breaks that have occurred in several town districts recently, but have found no substantial clues that would lead to rounding up the supposed band of young men thought to be committing the midnight depredations at will.

Preparations are now under way for the annual policemen's ball the feature event in the social life of the Lowell Police Relief association. The affair will be held, according to precedent, on the first Tuesday in January, which this year is New Year's day. The Memorial Auditorium will be the scene.

THE ADVERTISING CLUB

Lecture by Telegraph Company Representative at Liberty Hall Meeting

"Time, and How to Get More of It" was the subject of a powerful address on the efficiency of the telegraph in business given by J. C. Hale of the general manager's staff of the Western Union Telegraph company at a well attended monthly supper of the Lowell Advertising Club in Liberty Hall last evening.

The supper was served at 6:30 o'clock. At 7:15 President Edward J. Conney called the meeting to order and announced that the next meeting will be held Monday at 12:15, at which time a moving picture, "The Making of Hump Rope," will be shown. He then called upon Vice-President Robert Wood to take charge. Mrs. Nettie Roberts was called upon and sang two beautiful songs, "Don't You Listen" and "Friends of Yesterday."

STOMACH DISTRESS

QUICKLY RELIEVED

If Your Symptoms Are Like Those of This Rochester Woman You Will Be Interested

Much distress is caused by pains in the side and around the heart and much anxiety is caused by fear that these pains may be caused by organic heart trouble or by appendicitis. The great majority of these are not pains caused by inflammation.

"Several years ago," says Mrs. J. H. Wyant, of No. 12 Bremen street, Rochester, N. Y., "I suffered from stomach trouble. I had severe nervous attacks which deprived me of my strength. It made little difference what kind of food I ate, distress was almost certain to follow. My heart beat irregularly at times. My sleep was interrupted by gas spells and sometimes I feared that I was going to choke."

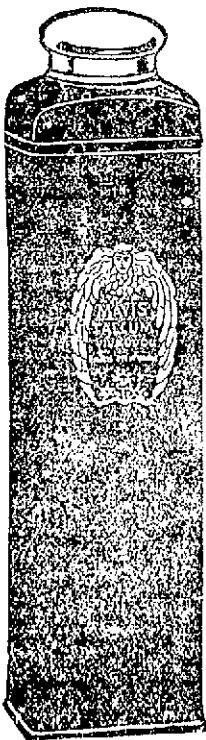

"After taking many medicines without gaining any perceptible relief I followed the advice of my sister and began treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the second box there was a noticeable improvement in my condition for I could eat with less distress. Gradually the stomach pains disappeared and I took on weight and gained strength. My nerves are much stronger now and I feel better than I have for years. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did wonders for my case and I cannot recommend them too highly."

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has issued a booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," that should be in every home. It gives just the information you want regarding your diet. The company will mail Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, postpaid, at sixty cents per box or your own druggist can supply you—Adv.

reorganization committee reported that the committee had decided to obtain permanent quarters for the club in the new Courter-Clemon building. He also reported that the committee planned to hold the membership of the club to 250 and to set the yearly dues at $12.

The souvenir dinner committee, Frank Riccio, chairman, reported progress in the plans for the dinner which will be held early in January. Mr. Hale was then introduced by Vice-President Wood. "The business man means," he said, "that there is so much to do, so little time, and so little time to do it. We labor under the handicap of time and yet we cannot answer the question, What is time? Time is too elusive to be clearly described. Time never is and always was. It dominates our every act, we guard it as a priceless possession and we fight it as our bitterest enemy. Our life is like the sand in an hour glass, the upper portion of which is colored so we cannot see inside. We see the sand falling through and see it piling up in the bottom of the glass—but we cannot see how much is left above and never know when the last grain of sand is going through and life is ended."

The question of speeding up our life in a business sense, to save time was then discussed by Mr. Hale, who said that if our business time was worth anything, then why slow our business by waiting for the mails to carry our correspondence. He urged the business men to realize that a quicker turnover of goods could be obtained by using the telegraph instead of the mails and added that, as time is money, the use of the telegraph for business correspondence is cheaper than the use of the mails.

Mr. Hale's address was of great interest to the members of the club and he was given an ovation at the conclusion of his address.

PEN STORY OF BROOKLYN SLAYINGS

On Nov. 14 William S. Barlow and William H. McLaughlin, bank messengers, were slain on mezzanine of Brooklyn elevated station. Bandits escaped with more than $15,000.

Several weeks later Morris Earlow Diamond was arrested in room of a Cleveland, O., hotel. Police after long search said his finger prints corresponded with those on "murder car."

On day following, Diamond's brother, Joseph, a youth of 21, surrendered to police, knowing he, too, was sought. Both men were charged with murder in first degree.

Then, several days later, Anthony Pantano, former clerk in bank for which the slain men worked, was arrested, police charging he helped plan the hold-up.

But still police seek others, even after arresting seven more in addition to the Diamonds and Pantano. They have broadcast descriptions of two men believed to have done actual killing.

as suspects. One established an alibi and was released, but the other was held for examination by the district attorney.

Mrs. Maggio said there were three men in the murder party. They entered through a rear window of the apartment and began spraying the drug. It took immediate effect on the children but Maggio and his wife were only dazed.

Maggio, who was a cobbler, leaped from his bed after the first shot was fired and attempted to protect himself. But the second bullet finished him. His wife screamed, bringing policemen. Finger prints on the windowsills were taken and these it was believed, would lead to identification of the slayers.

Hold-up Men Active

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Hold-up men became active early today in Manhattan. Two jobs netted rich hauls but a third, attempted by an amateur, resulted in his capture.

Six patrons and the proprietor of a Division street restaurant were lined face against the wall and their pockets emptied by three masked men. The loot in money and jewelry amounted to several thousand dollars.

Following illness, a white faced youth entered an all-night drug store up town and while the druggist and his assistant ministered to him, he kicked them to the floor, looting and gagged them, took their jewelry and emptied the cash register.

Lawrence Schirmer lost at cards he told the police, then dreamed that he would get lots of money by holding up somebody. He tried a taxicab driver and pointed a gun in his face. As the chauffeur raised his hands he knocked the gun down, dumped Schirmer into the cab and drove to a police station.

NEWMAN TRAVEL TALK IN PARKER COURSE

Those who heard E. H. Newman, famous traveler and lecturer, last season, will be eager to hear him again when he appears at the Auditorium next Saturday evening in the Parker course.

Since being here last winter, Mr. Newman has spent many weeks in South American lectures, is now running for his present season's course upon that country. A series of five South American lectures is now running at Symphony hall in Boston, two of the most interesting of which have been selected by the Parker trustees for presentation in Lowell. Next Saturday night, Mr. Newman is to give the story of his trip up the Amazon river through the most interesting parts of South America. He penetrated this almost unknown land for many miles and will show all the beauty of its tropical scenery as well as the wonderful islands found along the course of the river.

In story and pictures Mr. Newman leads you through a remote wilderness where savage people and little known animals spend their life in wealth and vigilance, oblivious of the rest of the world.

LECTURE AT MIDDLESEX WOMEN'S CLUB

"Home Life in Peru, Past and Present" was the title of a very interesting lecture at the Middlesex Women's club yesterday afternoon, by Mrs. Sylvester Heron, the director of the home bureau of the Eastern States League, who has only recently returned from a small village in Peru where she was the only English speaking woman.

In regard to home life in the past in that country, she told of the customs that might be found in the ruins of the old city of Cuzco, the stronghold of the Incas at the time the Spanish came to this side of the water and laid the country desolate. The Incas lived and worked in much the same style as the ancient Egyptians of the time of Tut-Ankh-Amen, erecting massive structures out of enormous blocks of stone, and although no masonry was performed, such buildings as escaped the Spaniards' destruction are still standing. The descendants of the people today are broken, subjugated, people from their long years in slavery.

While the tendency at present is toward city life, the majority of the people live on haciendas or farms, in which every essential for life is stored in great quantities. All the life of the Peruvian families is centered in one room of the house which is exceptionally well furnished with furniture, and pianos imported from France. The women are charming and well dressed in Parisian gowns, but remain very much to themselves. They spend most of their time playing the piano. They are not allowed by the customs of the country to attend a funeral of even a near relative. The men of the family are well educated, if means permit, and often times they are graduates of universities in the United States, to which they travel while young.

The divorce of the society now changing, the divorce and remarriage is the custom for all its occupants. In the plaza or common every evening where they sit or walk about and listen to the playing of the band.

PUTTING CITY HALL TELEPHONES IN SHAPE

Repairmen of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company are working on the telephone wires at city hall in an endeavor to put them in the first class condition. In the past, when a telephone went out of order it sometimes took several days to trace out the wiring and repair the line, in other cases temporary lines were laid to cut out the old wires. The building was wired for telephone service in the early days of telephony and naturally many of the circuits are in poor condition. With the completion of the repair work it is expected that the wiring of the building will be as modern as is possible under the circumstances.

"HONEYMOONERS" HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. O'Brien, of this city, who were married here last week and who are now on their way home after visiting in New York and Connecticut, were honored a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allen, of Thompsonville, Conn. Dec. 1. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien were the recipients of many beautiful gifts from relatives and friends. The gifts were all placed in a little cart prettily decorated, to "express" the gifts to the newly wedded couple. The house was beautifully decorated in appropriate colors. Refreshments were served during the course of the evening and the party broke up at a late hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien much happiness in coming years.

Agents Pall and Sullivan claim they bought beer there Saturday night, which after a chemical test had proven that it contained greater alcoholic contents than permitted by law.

FUNERALS

SCHOLERS.—The funeral of Thomas Scholers, a pupil of St. Patrick's school, took place this morning at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his parents, 145 So. Main street and was largely attended by friends and relatives. The casket proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock, a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. M. Donoghue. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant, the solo being sustained by Miss Frances Tighe and Mr. J. Ignatius O'Brien. St. Johnson presided at the organ. The bearers were six clowns of the deceased: Masters Francis Callahan, Raymond Beaudouin, Francis MacNab, Herbert Parent, John McNabb and Eugene Connors. There were many floral and spiritual bouquets. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. M. Donoghue read the burial prayers. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Charles H. Malloy's Sons.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks to all those who by their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy on the death of the late Thomas Kelly, helped to make a departure for one worthy of the name. We wish to especially thank the members of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church. The kindness of heart which prompted such manifestation we will ever appreciate.

Sincerely,

His ship was not among those damaged.

TALKED ON Y. M. C. A. WORK IN INDIA

The principal speaker at the meeting of the Y's Men's club, the Highland club and the members of Red Triangle Village last night, was William Earl Dodge Ward, who is the business secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in India.

Mr. Ward told of the work the Y.M.C.A. has been doing in India and the amount of good that has been accomplished, among which is the establishment of a system of banks in which the people may deposit their money instead of dealing with the old money lenders, who have cheated them unmercifully. In the past, the difficulties of handling the people are great owing to the number of languages that are spoken and the number of castes, which are held from making advances by age-old prejudices. At the close of his talk, committees were formed from each of the three clubs present, to look into the work more closely and report on the advisability of forming a Christian service club, with interest in foreign affairs. The committees were composed of Y's Men's club: Dana Hart and Royal K. Dexter, Jr.; Highland club, Fred Mason and Henry Hanson; Red Triangle Village, Richard Woodman and Samuel Nichols.

The supper was served by the following ladies: Mrs. Robert Douglas, Mrs. Harold F. Howe, Mrs. S. W. Hands, Mrs. B. W. Brown and Mrs. McGowan.

FAILS TO BREAK DEADLOCK

disposition to yield, members of the house were prepared for another day of futile balloting. Leaders of the republican factions and of the democrats who yesterday voted as a unit for Representative Garrett of Tennessee for speaker, again were marshaling their forces for renewal of the conflict. Meantime, the senate was ready to proceed in business, but was unable to do so because of the deadlock in the house which had the added effect of possible indefinite postponement of the delivery to congress of President Coolidge's first annual message. The president had planned to address congress in person tomorrow.

Representative Woodruff of Michigan, secretary of the progressive bloc who yesterday voted for Madden of Illinois for speaker on every ballot, told his colleagues at last night's conference that he made an unsuccessful effort to negotiate with Mr. Longworth. He declared that after the house had taken four ballots he had attempted to outline to the majority leader the position of the insurgents on the question and had received no indication that Mr. Longworth was disposed to deal with the progressive bloc.

After the house had adjourned, Mr. Longworth stated that the organization leaders were prepared to deal with all members of the party individually, but would not conduct negotiations with an organized group. This position, together with the announced stand of the insurgents, convinced the rank and file of house members that having an unexpected development leading to a compromise, they were facing a protracted siege of balloting for speaker.

Democrats, while insisting that they would stand out to the last for the election of Mr. Garrett, declared that they, too, favored some amendments to the house rules and believed that opportunity should be given to the house for full discussion and action.

Four candidates for speaker are in the field, with Gillett and Garrett running neck and neck in the voting. Gillett on the first, second and fourth ballots had a slight lead, but Garrett forged to the front on the third by a single vote. Throughout the balloting, 17 members of the progressive group voted steadily for Cooper of Wisconsin, a leader of their group. Madden of Illinois, the fourth candidate, polled five votes although he consistently supported Gillett and announced to the house that he was not a candidate.

Health Is Vital!

Read What This Mother Says:

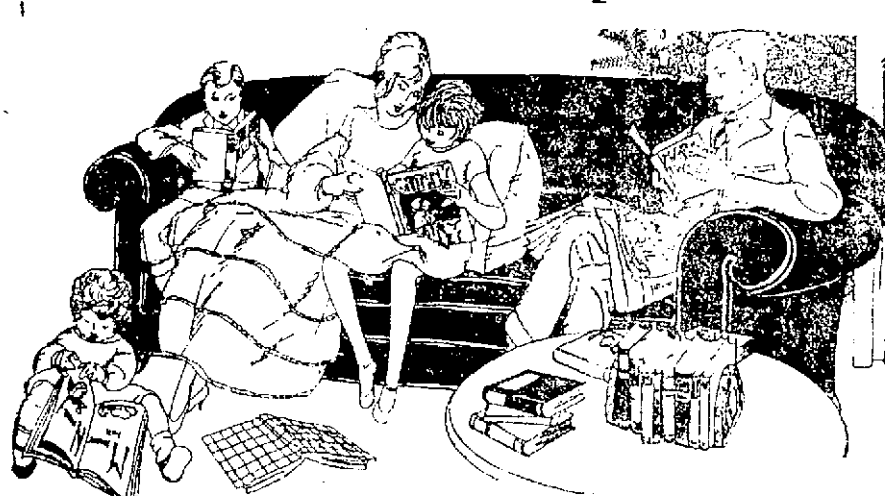

"Albany, N. Y.—I have been wonderfully helped by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During pregnancy my health was very bad. I became so weak and all run-down that I could not get around all the time. I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and by the time I had taken about one bottle I was able to be around and do my work. I got along fine after that, never having any more trouble, and my child was very healthy. At every stage that experience, whenever I feel the least bit run-down or in need of a tonic I take a bottle of Favorite Prescription and it makes me feel fine."

OUT OUR WAY

This Little World

BY CASUAL STROLLER

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Small-town spirit permeates New York. Few natives here will ever rise to defend the greater city when they hear it maligned. But let anyone cast aspersions on their favorite Yorkville, Borough Park, or Williamsburg, and he will precipitate a storm.

For the unit of loyalty here seems to be the neighborhood. In many cases this is limited to one block, where a thousand or more tenement dwellers learn to know each other's business at the corner grocery or butcher's.

There is no old stove around which to gather winter evenings. But there is a counter on which to lean. And each morning when the housewives come down for their day's marketing, they get—and give—bits of the day's gossip. Before the day's over there is little that they don't know about each other.

New Yorkers don't go in much for walking. They seem to prefer the crowded subway and jammed elevated trains. On Riverside Drive, one of the finest walks in the world, overlooking the Hudson and facing the Palisades on the Jersey shore, there were nine times as many autos as pedestrians one beautiful morning last week on the esplanade stretch between 116th and 124th streets.

The flapper girl of Gotham is giving way to the Ritzy kid. No more does she saunter around with long coat, open, sniffer flying and simple hat tilted at a rakish angle. Now she is growing up and she wants the whole world to know. She wears expensive fur coats bobbed at the waist. Don't let a hat, or good imitation, that costs more than the whole flapper outfit cost a year ago. And she is developing an intolerance for the younger girls who are still in the flapper attire.

No longer are tipplers forced to think up original toasts such as: "To the Ladies!" "Here's to crime!" "Drink it down!" and the other banalities which have been stock phrases of conviviality. For 1923 Prohibition New York has hit upon a new toast that is going the rounds. Glasses are raised in speck-cakes, private homes or clubs to the simple toast of: "Gurgie Gurgie."

Old-fashioned turkey dinners that mother used to make seem to be passing from vogue. Most of them have given way to table d'hôte meals dished out at popular-priced restaurants. On Thanksgiving Day it was possible to edge one's way into the restaurant along upper Broadway only by standing in a long line waiting for his next, which sometimes didn't come for two hours or more.

Subsidence of land in Cheshire, England, due to underground workings, have brought into existence lakes 50, 60 and 100 feet deep, where once there was solid earth.

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and ninety per cent. of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper.

The citizens of Lowell have a duty to perform today in electing two members of the school board, who will not be controlled by the anti-Molloy clique and who will stand for the best interests of the schools.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

BY MARCUS A. DOW

Secretary, Safety Bureau, New York Police Dept., Vice President, National Safety Council in Charge of Public Safety.

Hurry is at the bottom of most accidents which are attributed to other causes. It causes a steady toll of accidental deaths and injuries in our factories, in our streets and in our homes. Hurry is one reason why accidents are more frequent in America than among the more leisurely Europeans.

To save two minutes' time a workman will climb in a dangerous place instead of getting a ladder; a pedestrian crosses the traffic against the signal; a motorist dashes past a school zone at a dangerous rate of speed, or at home we neglect to put shoes on the icy front steps.

An accident from neglect of these precautions may cause us to lose many months, as there are minutes saved in falling to correct these conditions. But supposing we are lucky and nothing happens? What use do we make of the time saved. We may save a few seconds by being careless, yet we waste hours in other ways which bring us neither profit nor real enjoyment.

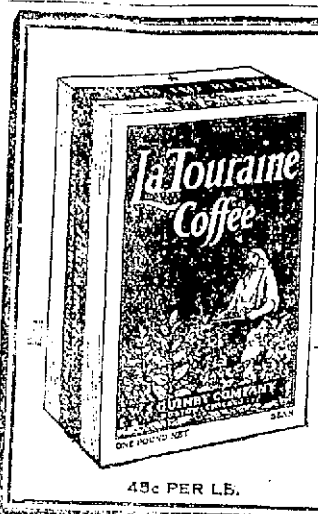

DOW

Did you ever stop to think how little time is really saved in speeding? Twenty miles an hour is the speed limit in most cities. At 25 miles an hour you save 35 seconds in going one mile or six minutes in going ten miles. At a higher speed you save more time, of course, but the risk increases in much greater proportion. You may lose more time telling it to the judge than you can save in a month of speeding.

FRATERNAL NEWS

The gold degree was conferred on five members of Loyal Wampanoag lodge at its regular meeting in Great Hall last night. The degree team of the local lodge conferred the degree and many guests from other lodges were present to assist in the degree work. Sunday morning, Wampanoag lodge held its regular meeting in the same hall, with President Albert West in the chair. Considerable business transacted and officers for the following six months nominated.

Delegations from Oberlin, Centralville and Highland lodges, I.O.O.F., attended the regular meeting of Shawshoon lodge, I.O.O.F., held Saturday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Billerica. The second degree work was performed by the degree staff of Oberlin in a most impressive manner. Refreshments were served following the business meeting and Master Deputy George N. Holden and the noble grands of the visiting orders addressed the gathering.

A Quick Response from Sunbeam Warm-Air Heating

A little child can operate the Sunbeam Upstairs Register.

With a Sunbeam Warm-Air Heating system in your home you can get a remarkably quick heating result. When you want more warmth—or less warmth—you simply turn a single, convenient wall regulator. Room temperatures are quickly changed all over the house.

Sunbeam Quick-Action Heating is a thing you'll particularly appreciate on raw, damp mornings in spring or fall or on any day when sudden temperature changes come. And, bear in mind, Sunbeam Upstairs Control does away with all necessity of running up and down the cellar stairs or from room to room to regulate drafts and dampers.

Come in. Let us give you an estimate on a Sunbeam Furnace suited to your requirements. We have a wide variety of sizes in Pipe and Pipeless types.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEETTS THEATRE
An act which has a distinct musical comedy flavor and is "big time" in every respect is headlined at the B. F. Keetts theatre this week. It is "The Stars of Now," presented by Jay Day and Betty Parker, assisted by Max Miller and Branna Bassett. Mr. Day and Miss Parker conceived, wrote and acted in its entirety and the results achieved are proof of their versatility and showmanship. The programme includes music, dancing and sparkling comedy within a most attractive stage setting and before the act is half over more than justifies its position on the program.

...singing voice is augmented by style personality and there is a sparkle in her speaking voice as she sings. She is spontaneously goaded, what is not a little to its effect, by the closing number, a brief review of the song hits of current and past successes, as excellent. Miss LaRue is a capable vocalist and Mr. Baggett provides her piano accompaniment. The vocal quartet, Hartman, playing, with R. and W. in "Before and After" of the season's best supply of melodies. She spins a line of the kind that is unusually good and does not fairly radiate good humor. While is the musician of the two, she offers over several satisfactory numbers.

Howard has a voice of delicious timbre and uses it to sing duet ballad songs to splendid effect. He did not hear about more money for his soprano voice in his partner's score for above all in beauty and range. The much to commend it.

Exceptionally good dancing features a set of Barroet and Farnum, better more than keeping pace with the dancing that cannot fail to be a thing of beauty. The first formed instant face the Three Originals and the second a woman, evidently of African descent in the show part, and by is beautiful or beautiful, and the best of the trio does strong almost superhuman strength in strict co-ordination of mind and

LOWELL RADIO CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The first December meeting of the Lowell Radio club was held Sunday, at the station of President Everett E. Taylor, 156 Winthrop avenue, and several important matters were taken up. A committee consisting of the secretary, David Hunson, Ralph Webb and Warren K. Entwistle were appointed to procure rooms ready for occupancy Jan. 1. The old rooms in the Dartmouth building were given up in June, owing to the poor location for receiving in the centre of the city. It was also decided to open the organization to new members for a short time and all interested in radio are invited to join. During the winter the club expects to hold classes in code instruction and lectures on theory. The club is a mem-

...a double winner at the Olympic Games at Athens, and twice all-around champion of America.

Then came a change. I was admitted to the Bar, and wholly abandoned my outdoor life. The effect on my health was disastrous. Constipation and blood impurities became first an annoyance, then a menace, and finally a chronic disability. My nerves were 'on edge'; I became moody, irritable, and subject to intense depression.

One day I heard two chance acquaintances praising the merits of Fleischmann's Yeast. They spoke with enthusiasm, but it was their appearance, even more than their words, which decided me....

The age of miracles is still here. Inside of a fortnight I noticed a distinct improvement in my health; in a month I was literally a new man. Within a year my nerves had steadied and my appetite came back. I am today in the pink of condition and a convert for life to Fleischmann's Yeast.

ELLERY H. CLARK
1112 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.

“the age of miracles is still here—in one month
I was literally a new man”

There is nothing unusual about the enthusiasm of the New England lawyer whose letter is printed above.

Constipation, skin troubles, digestive disorders—all of them are generally due simply to wrong habits of living and eating. All of them have been becoming more common year by year. Now at last we are learning how to fight them.

The whole secret of the overwhelming popularity of Fleischmann's Yeast is that it is a food, not a medicine, and that it helps to remove the cause permanently, not merely to check the symptoms temporarily. Its millions of tiny living cells aid digestion and give the intestinal muscles regular, healthy exercise. Its rich vitamin and protein content increases the white corpuscles in the blood and helps to tone up the whole system.

Remember that Fleischmann's Yeast for Health comes only in the tinfoil wrapper, and cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it.

Eat two or three cakes a day before or between meals, plain, in water or fruit juices, or spread on crackers or on bread, whichever you prefer. Send for free booklet, "The New Found Value of Fleischmann's Yeast in Building Health." The Fleischmann Company, Dept. 188-C • 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Robert Dransfield Fined for Larceny of Jewelry—
Other Cases.

Robert Dransfield was fined $15 in district court this morning for the larceny of jewelry, valued at $65, the property of Mrs. Josephine Day of Stockport street. A charge of drunkenness was placed on him.

Mrs. Roy said that Dransfield had been boarding with her until last night, and when he left she missed a necklace, a watch and several rings. Dransfield was arrested by Motorcycles Officer Frank Murphy yesterday noon and booked for drunkenness. He was released on bail and then went back to Mrs. Day's house. She ordered him to leave, she said, and after he had gone, her jewelry was missing. Motorcycles Officer Daniel Lynch later apprehended him and found the articles on his clothing.

John Dundek, a considerable excitement in yesterday afternoon, said Officer John Galloway who arrested him for drunkenness, by running wildly in the vicinity of Bridge and West Third streets, his face streaming with blood. Dundek claimed that the two wounds were inflicted by his wife in her attempt to eject him from her house. He was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction, suspended for a year.

Davis Shiffin was fined $5 for violating the city ordinance, which prohibits the parking of automobiles in the downtown streets of the city for more than an allotted period of time.

A fine of $10 was imposed on Simon Chaput for drunkenness. For the same offense, Nathaniel Parnell was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction.

Florence J. Murphy, charged with illegal keeping and with maintaining a liquor nuisance, was continued until Dec. 6.

A charge of keeping, preferred against Omer Pennelle, was continued until Dec. 14.

SHOOT SELF WITH SAME GUN CHUM USED

BALTIMORE, Dec. 4.—(Clarence) Watson Wheelwright, 22 years old, son of the late Mrs. H. Wheelwright, shot himself at his home today in the same room and with the same pistol with which his chum, Francis T. Redwood, Jr., committed suicide last night.

Young Wheelwright was taken to a hospital where his condition was pronounced critical. He shot himself in the stomach.

Clarence Wheelwright and his brother were reported to be the wealthiest orphans in Baltimore.

TO THE VOTERS OF WARD 4

My opponent, Mr. Mullin, tries to defend his action as member of the school board in helping to defeat Miss Margaret McGurn as candidate for teacher of sewing in the day schools, by saying that she had moved from Ward 4 previous to becoming a candidate. That is true, but she was brought up in the ward and a life-long resident of Lowell, recommended for the position as fully qualified by Supt. Molloy, yet Mr. Mullin saw fit to help defeat her by voting for a woman from Maine, first heard of here in 1921, who filed no credentials of any kind with Supt. Molloy and was elected because of being the sister of Mrs. Slaughter.

Here is Miss McGurn's record as teacher of sewing filed with the school department:

Margaret McGurn, dressmaker, resident of Lowell.
Graduate of Colburn grammar school, 1898.
Graduate of Lowell evening high school, 1905.
Attended Lowell evening high school, 1905-1906, making post-graduate course, making standing equal that of day high school graduates.
Has taken following courses to fit her for work as sewing teacher:
Teacher—Training class as follows: 1916-1917 under Miss O'Leary and Miss Wilkins of Vocational school, 1918 in fabrics in state extension course, under Miss Eggers.

I would ask Mr. Mullin why he voted against a Lowell girl so well qualified and for a comparative stranger when Supt. Molloy could not recommend? Mr. Mullin's cheap talk about his own negative record and his criticism of mine, cannot but do that act of injustice to a Lowell girl, nor deceive the voters as to his betrayal of the trust placed in his hands as a member of the school board.

My record as councillor needs no defense. I thank the voters for past favors and for their support at the polls today.

MACDONALD NEW LEGION POST COMMANDER

Colin C. MacDonald succeeds Joseph A. Molloy in 1924 as commander of Lowell post, American Legion, a position he seems eminently well fitted to fill. He won the commandership at the annual election of officers, last night, when he defeated George F. Foye by a margin of 22 votes. Out of 1801 votes cast, MacDonald received 162 and Foye, 141.

As the result of the election the following officers will serve with the new commander: Senior vice commander, George A. McCarthy; junior vice commander, Robert A. Conway; treasurer, Joseph M. Dineen; historian, Thomas H. Higgins; chaplain, Rev. William F. Mahon, O.M.I.

The only other contest arose from the fight for commander between Captain and William H. Looney for junior vice commander, with the former winning by 23 votes.

The new commander is well known in the city, having served for many years in several journalistic capacities. His last newspaper affiliation was with the "Courier-Tribune." At present he is manager of the sporting department at 141 Keene and Magazine. He was a lieutenant in the aviation service during the war.

The ladies auxiliary of the legion also met last night and nominated officers for next year, as follows: President, Mrs. N. J. Fisher; first vice president, Mrs. Charles Young; second vice president, Mrs. Winifred Brink; treasurer, Mrs. George Underwood; recording secretary, Miss Winifred Brink; correspondence secretary, Miss Mollie O'Sullivan; chaplains, Mrs. John Farrell, Mrs. Hugh McGuire.

1924 PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY SELECTIONS

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 4 (By the Associated Press).—First selections for the 1924 presidential primaries will be made today by the state primary elections of the democratic, republican and propper of former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo will do battle with the sponsors of a campaign in behalf of Henry Ford, while in the republican authorizing the advocates of William Johnson of California and President Calvin Coolidge will face their test.

The farmer-brother assembly will have before it the names of Henry Ford and Senator Robert La Follette of Wisconsin.

In the democratic convention the McAdoo-Brown ticket is being pushed. At a recent contest held in the Grand Opera House, Miss Helen Bode of Pine Street, Minneapolis, was proclaimed the prettiest girl in the hall by a group of competitors. She was awarded a beautiful silver locket.

Miss Bode was greatly surprised at her success. The winner also did not attend with the intention of taking part in the contest. While the judging of the girls was going on, the judge of the contest, Miss Helen Bode, was struck by a car, which she was driving, and was killed. Her many friends in France were exceptionally well pleased with the outcome of the judging and Miss Bode was given a heroic reception.

STREET BY AUTOMOBILE
Largest Brown, aged 5, of 418 Moody street, was struck yesterday by an automobile driven by Ernest Frank Gray, of 60 Parker avenue. Brown, who picked him up and carried him to the Lowell Corporation hospital. The boy's injuries consisted of a broken nose and a cut lip.

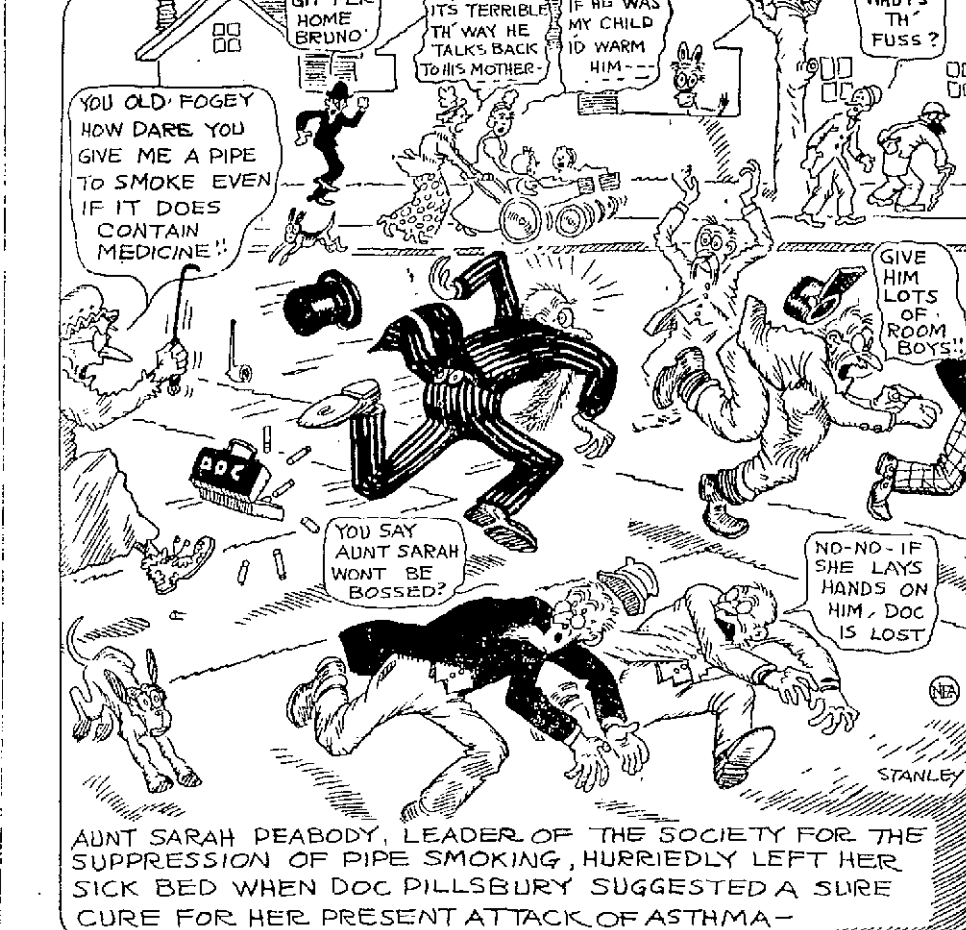

NEW BEDFORD, Dec. 4.—Edward E. Conroy, of 187 Middle street, assistant manager of the Metropolitan Insurance Co., at the New Bedford office, was killed early today when the sedan in which he was riding crashed into the rear end of a truck on Avenue 14, near Bradley road.

The condition of Mrs. Katherine Hall, a woman who was struck by an automobile on Appleton street last Saturday night, is reported from St. John's hospital as still critical.
Edward J. Conroy, sales and service manager of the Lowell Gas Light corporation, will address a meeting of the Gas Sales Association of New England at the Boston City club next Friday evening. Mr. Conroy's subject will be "The Eyes of the Store and the Minds of the People."
A meeting of the Enlisted Reservists association will be held tonight in Memorial hall at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to attend several matters of importance are to be discussed.
Sergeant Timothy Kimball, army recruiting officer, was advised today by headquarters in Boston that enlistments may now be accepted in the infantry, for detail at Fort Briggs, North Carolina, and Fort Bayle, Maryland.

Plan for Survey of Industrial Conditions

proportion of its manufacturing interests if the threatening menace to prosperity and progress is not checked.
Numerous New England industrial leaders have sought the support of the Boston chamber of commerce in the move to investigate conditions in business at the present time and if possible find some way to increase the production of New England-made goods of all kinds. Particular attention is to be paid to the textile business, that has flourished so long in the northeastern states and is now simply marking time, blocked by uncertainty and hampered by competition coming from newly constructed mills in the south.
The program to be outlined for chamber of commerce discussions and recommendations will include a survey of New England industries with assets and liabilities as compared with similar industries in other parts of the country. The question of raw materials will also be considered, sources of manufacturing requirements investigated, and means of increasing production, labor supplies, labor efficiency, taxation problems, marketing output, labor and legislative problems.
Boston business men would like to have a "Stereo" report made up on New England business conditions. Lowell leaders of the mercantile trades would prefer to have an up-to-date investigation of 22 problems affecting New England trade today and with no restrictions or limitations that would prevent full publicity to the movement in all its ramifications.
One of Lowell's best farms, near Dulwich Park, is now being razed to the ground to make way for houses.

INTERESTING REPORT ON $11,000,000 SUIT OVER TO HOLD WHIST PARTY IN COLONIAL HALL

COAL SITUATION
An interesting report on the anthracite coal situation as it regards this state was received today at the mayor's office from Eugene C. Hultman, emergency fuel administrator.

This report shows that the average coal movement of coal per day for November was 451, while the average daily movement in the coal year 1921-1922 was only 117.

Coal on hand April 1 was estimated at 182,082 tons. Since that time, 3,291,493 tons have been received, making a total in the state of 3,473,575 tons. Of this amount, 3,205,581 tons had been delivered to households and consumers up to November 1.

Mr. Hultman also advises in his report that several coal dealers in various portions of the state have agreed to sell coal at their yards to those who need it in small lots at the ton price. This is being done to ease for those who are unable to afford a ton at a time.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Paul Dupuy, member of the French senate and publisher of Le Petit Parisien, was presented to President Coolidge today by Ambassador Jusserand of France.

DRY LAW VIOLATORS JAM JAILS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 4.—With county jails in Minnesota filled to overflowing with persons convicted in Minneapolis federal courts of violating the prohibition laws, E. A. Rustad, United States marshal for Minnesota, is seeking additional jail accommodations for bootleggers to come to trial during the session of federal court opening today. During the term just ended in Minneapolis, Federal Judge J. F. McGee disposed of nearly 300 cases.

TO EXTRADITE HIRSCHFIELD

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Word was received today that Gov. Hunt of Arizona yesterday granted a requisition for the extradition of Isaac Hirschfield, said to be under indictment in Boston for larceny and conspiracy to steal. An officer left Phoenix for Boston with the prisoner.

THREATENED STRIKE OF MUSICIANS

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 4.—A threatened strike of musicians caused a delay of more than an hour in opening the Wagnerian opera season at Cincinnati music hall last night. Finally the differences were ironed out after a hurriedly called meeting of managerial heads and the performance started with the rendition of "Lohengrin."

FOR CHANGES IN TARIFF RATES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The tariff commission reported to congress today that rate changes on 127 commodities had been applied for thus far under the flexible provisions of the tariff law. Thirty-four of the applications were for changes in rates on chemicals. Investigations into rate schedules ordered by the commission to date number 33.

SMOKE TALK AND SOCIAL IN PARISH HALL

A successful smoke talk and social was held in the parish hall of St. Columba's church last night, under the auspices of St. Columba's Holy Name Society. A capacity attendance of members was present to enjoy the evening's exercises, which consisted of a general exchange of stories and interesting remarks by Rev. Peter McCormack of St. Joseph's church, Boston, and Charles "Sandy" Chapman of Cambridge, a former Knight of Columbus secretary overseas.

Warren P. Hordan was chairman of the evening and presided in his usual pleasant manner. He introduced Mr. McCormack, a well known author and an interesting and eloquent orator. The genial priest held the attention of his audience for some time, interspersing his more serious talk on the materialistic tendencies of the present-day world with humorous and laugh-provoking anecdotes.

The inimitable "Sandy," whose presence is very much in demand on all occasions, recounted his experiences as a war worker and told several amusing stories of overseas days. As a sample of his versatility, he introduced a comic ditty, rendered in his own original style, and accompanying himself on the piano.

Both speakers were accorded a vote of thanks for their generosity in appearing before the society. Rev. Cornelius J. Cotter, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. John J. Powers, who is absent from the city because of the death of a relative, voiced the appreciation of the members and said he looked forward with happy anticipation to more Holy Name society functions in St. Columba's.

LIONS' CLUB HOLDS NOON MEETING

The regular meeting of the Lions club was held in the Y.M.C.A. this noon, with Charles E. Jantiet, president, Alvah Sturges, of Lowell, was introduced by Frank Kimball. He entertained the members for a half-hour with recitations and character sketches, which he delivered in a most pleasing and enjoyable manner. A double quartet of members of the club sang a variety of offerings. The members were made up the vocal were H. Leggett, J. Hollingsworth, V. Carey, Dr. G. E. Martin, G. Foster, A. Smith, G. B. Dillard and E. Cotter.

President Jantiet announced that instead of a speaker next week, each member of the club must come prepared to speak for one or two minutes, and as the roll is called, every one is expected to reel off some kind of a story.

DEADLOCK OVER ELECTION OF SPEAKER OF HOUSE UNBROKEN

After Four More Inconclusive Ballots the House Adjourned Today—Throughout the Session the Insurgent Republicans Stood by Their Guns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—After four more inconclusive ballots, the house adjourned today with the deadlock over election of a speaker unbroken. Throughout the session the insurgent republicans stood by their guns and the four roll calls almost an exact repetition of the four ballots taken yesterday.

There was much talk of a possible compromise to permit an election tomorrow but there was no definite indication whether compromise negotiations would be successful.

EXPERT ON COAL DISTRIBUTION ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB

An all-star program featured today's Rotary weekly dinner exercises at the club rooms on Fulton street. It was a double-deck evening in fact, for heading the features in close formation at a private dining table in the center of the hall were the four beaming past presidents—Mr. Herbert Davis, H. Hutchins, Parker, Robert M. Thompson and Harry G. Pollard.

Past President Parker occupied the chair at the dinner-table exercises, while President Dr. Herbert P. Davis retired to the guests' tables for relaxation. Charity hall advertising cards were distributed right and left. Tickets are selling rapidly for the benefit entertainment, for all profits go to the Lowell boys' club. The event is to be held in the Memorial auditorium, Friday evening, December 28. Alan Thomas is an active salesman of the two-dollar pasteborders this week.

LOWELL CASES IN THE SUPREME COURT

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Hereafter Justice Charles A. Bourne in the supreme court here today, City Solicitor P. J. Reynolds for the city of Lowell, completed pleadings on the petition of William W. Bennett, master of Charles W. Morey school, for a writ of mandamus to compel the Lowell school committee to reinstate him as master of the Green hedge evening school. By agreement of counsel the case was continued for argument to Dec. 18, two weeks from today.

Similar disposition was accorded upon the writ of certiorari to which Attorney-General Bennett permitted the use of his name. This writ questions the authority of the Lowell city council in closing Worcester street for the benefit of the Saco-Lowell shops, a private industrial corporation.

DIVER ATTACKED BY HUGE OCTOPUS

Monster Did Not Relinquish Embrace Until Man's Comrades Cut it to Pieces

Diver Working on Wreck Had Desperate Struggle Under Water

PORTLAND, France, Dec. 4.—A diver working on the submerged wreck of the French battleship Liberte, was attacked yesterday by a huge octopus which did not relinquish its manifold embrace until the man's comrades had cut it to pieces.

The diver, Jean Nozri, fought desperately with the monster under water for some time. He was finally able to free one arm and plunged his trident into the body of the creature. The octopus, however, held fast, whereupon Nozri gave the signal to be hauled up. When his companions saw the writhing monster emerge they were panic-stricken, but the plight of their comrade appeared so serious that they went to his aid and freed him with their knives.

ANOTHER LOWELL GIRL MISSING FROM HOME

Mrs. George Martin, otherwise known as Beaulieu, of 123 Cushing street, appealed to Mayor John J. Donovan today to assist her in locating her 21-year-old daughter, Sarah Martin or Beaulieu, who disappeared from her home three months ago.

The missing girl is about 5 ft. 2 in. tall, medium build, medium complexion and was wearing a yellow polo coat and no hat when she left home. She left home on a Saturday evening to go to a down-town department store to purchase buttons for her coat and has not been heard from since. Up to the time of her disappearance she had worked in the Saco-Lowell shops.

Mrs. Martin fears for the safety of her daughter because she did not have any large sum of money upon her person. At first it was felt that she might have gone to visit friends or relatives, but as the days passed and no word was heard from her the mother felt that something had happened to her.

Mrs. Martin has also appealed to the superintendent of police and requests that anyone who knows anything of the whereabouts of her daughter notify her, the police or the mayor's office.

CRISIS IN ENGLISH COTTON INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A crisis in the English cotton industry has been brought about by the ravages of the boll weevil in the cotton fields of the United States combined with the European situation and conditions in the world generally, according to the department of agriculture. Reports to the department forecast hard times in the English cotton centers this winter.

Thousands of men and women in Lancashire are working half time, these reports state, and some mills are running at a loss to retain their skilled employees pending a return of good times. One trade union secretary estimated 40,000 operatives have left the industry for good, India and China, Lancashire's largest customers for good goods, can now buy only a fraction of the quantity they purchased before the war.

MONROE DOCTRINE CENTENNIAL

MONTVIDEO, Dec. 4.—The Uruguay chamber of deputies yesterday voted to send a congratulatory message to the house of representatives of the United States on the occasion of the Monroe doctrine centennial.

The motion authorizing the message was presented by Deputy Hurre "as an act of American solidarity." It started a debate on the significance of the doctrine in the course of which Deputy Terna said the policy contained imperialistic aims and was evoked for the exclusive benefit of North America. Deputy Basset asserted that the motion referred only to the doctrine itself, and not to the interpretation given it later by the American government.

It was unjust, he said, to think of the United States only as a party of dollars and sky scrapers; for many fundamental reasons the United States deserved the admiration of the whole world, and the affection of all 2,000,000,000.

HOUSE AND CONTENTS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire which started in a bedroom of the house numbered 328 Adams street shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon gutted the lower part of the house and destroyed a considerable quantity of furniture and other contents. The house is owned by John A. Baker, an employee in one of the local mills, and there had been no one in the house, so far as is known since early this morning.

MAYORALTY CONTESTS IN CONN. CITIES

SPRINGFIELD.—Mayoralty contests are being waged in the municipal elections in three Connecticut valleys today. Holyoke, Northampton and Chicopee, while in this city and Westfield, only council members are being voted for. Chicopee leads with a field of four candidates for mayor, the best being opposed by former Mayor James E. Higgins and Daniel J. Buckley, and by Albert Dunham, a local candidate. Mayor J. P. Cronin is expected to be re-elected by Seth L. Bush and Maurice G. Donahue. In Northampton William Connor and Edward J. Wallace are competing to succeed Mayor Harry W. Bucknell, who is not a candidate.

PLAN FOR SURVEY OF INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS IN NEW ENGLAND

Lowell Chamber of Commerce to Participate in Research Program—Movement for Widespread Investigation of Business Stagnation in the Textile and Other Industries

Lowell chamber of commerce will be asked to participate in a program of research and study of the industrial conditions of New England. The movement for a widespread survey and investigation of the present conditions of the largest industries, including the cotton textiles, has the backing of many New England business executives, acting through boards of trade.

The present stagnation in some large industrial centers of New England has thoroughly aroused business men, who fear that this section of the United States will ultimately lose a good sized chunk of its business.

Dominick Maggro Shot Dead Early Today in His Brooklyn Home After His Wife, Three Children and Himself Had Been Chloroformed

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Dominick Maggro, who laughed three weeks ago when he received a letter signed with a seditious black hand and demanding money of his life, was shot dead early today in his Brooklyn home after his wife, three children and himself had been chloroformed.

Gas masks, the empty chloroform bottle, the murder gun and two empty cartridges, were left by the slayers beside their victim's bed.

Three in Murder Party
After Mrs. Maggro had been revived she told a story of her husband's enemies that led to the arrest of two men.

CHAS. PONZI SEEKS AID OF PRES. COOLIDGE IN PLEA FOR PARDON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Charles Ponzi of Boston, whose financial operations a few years ago caused a nation-wide sensation and resulted in a jail sentence, has written President Coolidge making overtures for a pardon.

In response the president asked the department of justice to forward to Ponzi a regular printed form on which he can make a formal pardon application. If he returns it, it will take the usual course of investigation and recommendation by the department before Mr. Coolidge makes any decision.

PLAN FOR FLIGHT TO CRUISER SEIZED IN GUN BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—An exhaustive study of the records of various Arctic expeditions and other scientific data is to be started shortly by a special board of naval officers appointed to work out a detailed plan for a flight next summer to the North pole.

Extensive exploration over unknown regions adjacent to the pole is to be undertaken and President Coolidge in a letter giving formal approval to the project expressed the opinion that the expedition will be of great practical value. No additional appropriation from congress, it is thought, will be needed to carry out the plan.

The project is the outgrowth of a suggestion made to Secretary Denby some months ago by Robert A. Bartlett, who served with Rear-Admiral Peary on the successful polar expedition in the steamer Albatross in 1905-1909. Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, heads the board which will determine whether the trip is to be made in the big navy dirigible Shenandoah or in airplanes equipped with skis, and outline all other arrangements for the flight.

Motor Cruiser Herreshoff Captured Off Port Reading, N. J., After Running Fight

Riot Guns and Revolvers Used in Clash Between Crew and Customs Agents

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The motor cruiser Herreshoff was seized by customs agents off Port Reading, N. J., today, after a running battle with riot guns and revolvers. Six men on the cruiser were arrested.

Patrolling in a speed boat, the customs agents hailed the Herreshoff, suspected of rum running. The cruiser's crew was turned seaward and she showed her bow, with bullets flying from the guns in the hands of her crew, the agents said.

Returning the fire, the government boat overhauled the cruiser, drew alongside and placed a boarding party on her as she ran at full speed. The government agents said the cruiser's crew had been jettisoned and was floating alongside.

A short hand-to-hand engagement was had aboard the cruiser, according to the agents' report.

GOV. BAXTER ASKS AID TO ENFORCE DRY LAWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Acting on a request from Governor Baxter of Maine for assistance in coping with liquor law violations in certain counties of the state, prohibition officials have instructed the divisional prohibition chief of New England and the director of the Maine district to offer aid considered necessary.

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 4.—Governor Percival P. Baxter declined to comment today on dispatches from Washington that he had requested federal prohibition officials to aid in enforcing the liquor laws in one or two counties in Maine. He also refused to make public his letter. It is supposed his request relates more especially to smuggling operations.

PLAN TO INVESTIGATE GERMANY'S RESOURCES

PARIS, Dec. 4. (By the Associated Press.)—At a conference between Premier Poincaré and Louis Barthou, president of the reparations commission, held last evening, a revised text defining the powers of the expert committee which are to investigate Germany's resources and financial assistance was agreed upon.

This text is worded in a way which the reparations commission hopes will overcome the objection raised by Secretary of State Hughes to the participation of the United States. Mr. Barthou plans to submit this text to the reparations commission this afternoon and no doubt was expressed that it would be approved.

Alaska has produced nearly half a billion dollars' worth of minerals, and 97 per cent of this has come from her deposits of gold, copper and silver.

Child's Best Laxative is
"California Fig Syrup"

When baby is constipated, has wind-colic, feverish breath, coated tongue, or diarrhea, a half-teaspoonful of genuine "California Fig Syrup" promptly moves the bowels, gases, bile, souring food and waste right out. No cramps or overacids. Babies love its delicious taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has full directions for infants in arms and children of all ages, plainly printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. Adv.

MASS NOTICE

FITZGERALD—A month's mind high mass will be celebrated Wednesday morning, Dec. 5 at 8 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church for the repose of the soul of James Fitzgerald.

FITZGERALD FAMILY.

China's new president is 60 years of age. Thirty-eight years ago he was a common soldier.

The citizens of Lowell have a duty to perform today in electing two members of the school board who will not be controlled by the anti-Molloy clique and who will stand for the best interests of the schools.

O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Donnell & Sons.

DEATHS

GALLAGHER—Mrs. Mary Gallagher, a resident of Albany, N. Y., died yesterday at the home of her son, R. McGinley, 180 North Hill street, at the age of 57 years. She is survived by her husband, John A. Gallagher, three daughters, Catherine, Margaret and Lillian, and a son, James Gallagher. All of Albany, N. Y. The body was taken to her home in Albany yesterday afternoon by Undertaker William H. Saunders.

HARRIS—The many friends of Ivy W. and Mabelle (Hill) Harris will regret to hear of the death of their oldest son, James Walter Harris, who died yesterday at the home of his parents, 19 Moore street, at the age of 10 months and 7 days. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Irma and Audrey Harris, and a brother, Arthur Harris, all of this city.

CHANDLER—Wilfred Warren Chandler, who for three years was assistant professor of electrical engineering at the Lowell Textile school, died in Tucson, Ariz., last Friday, Nov. 30. Mr. Chandler resided here last year, having come to Lowell to seek a better recuperation and rest. About two months ago his doctors advised him to seek a drier climate and he went to Arizona, where he and his wife took an apartment in Tucson. His death was entirely unexpected by friends and relatives in this section of the country, as it was believed that he was improving.

While in Lowell, Mr. Chandler made his home at the residence of Mrs. P. Black, 445 Stevens st., and made many friends here through the influence of a quiet, but kindly disposition. He leaves his parents, a brother, a sister, and several cousins in Somerville. Mr. Chandler was a graduate of Brown university and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He served as a lieutenant of aviation during the World war, and served in the United States army.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. at which place the body has been removed. Boston papers accompany.

FUNERAL NOTICES

HARRIS—Died in this city, Dec. 3, at 19 Moore street, last night, after a long illness, James Walter Harris, son of Ivy and Mabelle (Hill) Harris, aged 10 months and 7 months. Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. at the home of his parents, 19 Moore street, at 2 o'clock. Friends are respectfully invited. Undertaker William H. Saunders in charge.

DISCHENES—The funeral of Descheneus will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from his home, 87 Dexter street. Solemn high funeral mass will be celebrated at St. Louis church at 9 o'clock. Friends are invited to attend. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

DEANEY—Died in this city, Dec. 3, at her home, 48 First street, Mrs. Maria (Sullivan) Deane. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from her home, and there will be a funeral high mass at St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. The arrangements are in charge of the funeral directors James W. McKenna Sons.

MCENTEE—Died at her home, Dec. 3, 186 Highland avenue, Somerville, Bridget McEntee. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the funeral chambers of Undertakers Higgins Bros. Funeral high mass will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements in charge of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

PRES. COOLIDGE REMITS
CRAIG SENTENCE

Attorney General Daugherty, in making the recommendation on which the president based his action, said Craig seemed "willing, if not desirous to accept the attitude of a martyr." He held, however, that the complaining "justly" deserves the sentence and emphasized that its remission should not be, in any sense, a vindication." The attorney general found that while the arguments in favor of a pardon presented by the New York board of appointment and estimate were "as unfounded and misleading as was the false, malicious and scurrilous attack of the defendant upon the president," the latter's action was advisable, among other reasons, because of the effect its execution might have on the financial affairs of New York City.

MODERNISTS BRANDED

He criticized Mr. Posner and Dr. Faunce, declaring that their influence could only bring about the development of conditions here such as obtain in Russia. He said the fight between the fundamentalists and modernists was a real war and that fundamentalists should be prepared to be wounded and to die if necessary, for their cause. He asserted families might be broken up but that no fundamentalist should surrender to members of

BOSTON LADIES OUTFITTERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Coolidge's refusal to pardon Charles L. Craig, comptroller of New York city, while granting him a remission of the 60-day sentence for contempt of court imposed by Federal Judge Mayer, is final, according to administration officials, regardless of whether he accepts the clemency or insists upon serving the term.

Attorney General Daugherty, in making the recommendation on which the president based his action, said Craig seemed "willing, if not desirous, to assume the attitude of a martyr." He held, however, that the comptroller "justly deserves the sentence and emphasized that its remission should not be. In any sense, a vindication." The attorney general found that while the arguments in favor of a pardon presented by the New York board of apportionment and estimate were "as unfounded and misleading as the false, malicious and libellous attack of the defendant upon the court," the remission of sentence was advisable, among other reasons, because of the effect the event, or might have on the financial affairs of New York city.

GIVING GENEROUSLY TO SEMINARY FUND

Lowell Jewish-speaking citizens are contributing most liberally to the support of the Jewish Theological seminary in New York city. Several thousand dollars have been sent already to Rabbi Max Drob, chairman of the seminary's million-dollar endowment fund campaign.

Rabbi Elias Wolfson, who directs the three Lowell synagogues from the rabbinical home, 68 Gato street, stated today that Lowell Jews have done nobly thus far. There have been numerous appeals for financial aid directed toward the seminary during the past year and not one appeal for substantial monetary contributions to Jewish charities has been made in vain.

Rabbi Wolfson believes that considering the high cost of living and the demands made on the synagogues members for steady support for local theological and social projects, the Jewish-speaking people of this section of Massachusetts "have" responded most satisfactorily to the call from the spiritual and physical ramparts of American Jewry.

"The Jewish campaign for the theological seminary project are today much enthused by an appealing letter just addressed to 'the Jews of America' by Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, chief rabbi of the British empire, who says that the seminary campaign should be cordially supported by all Jews, such aid being especially needed at this time 'when the forces of reaction and race hatred have joined hands against them.'"

Dr. Hertz, who is the representative of all the Jews of Great Britain, the Dominion of Canada and the British colonies and possessions, was the first graduate of the Jewish Theological seminary. Following a short incense-burner in Syracuse, N. Y., he was called to Johannesburg, South Africa.

It is expected that an appeal for funds to aid in the construction of a new Jewish hospital in Boston will be made in this city soon.

Every voter worthy of the privileges of American citizenship should go to the polls today and vote for the candidates who will give the most faithful service to the city in the offices to be filled.

Just Rub on a Little Mustardine and Away Goes Bronchitis, Headache, Pleurisy and Neuritis

The minute you rub MUSTARDINE for any pain, ache or soreness you'll know that all the misery and agony has started to go. It is very penetrating and won't blister.

Any druggist anywhere will recommend it, praise it, guarantee it. He will tell you that it is better than any liniment, poultice, hot water bottle or ointment.

A 30 cent box of this wonderful discovery will do the work of 50 mustard plasters. In two minutes Parache, Headache, Toothache and Neuritis vanish.

Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Pleurisy and deep-seated coughs go over night. Rheumatic sufferers joyfully praise it for the way it speedily stings the agony and reduces the swollen joints.

After all other remedies have failed thousands have overcome the misery caused by Sore, Burning Feet, Corns, Bunions and Callouses. Ask for MUSTARDINE, 30 cents in yellow box—Adv.

M'CORMACK PROGRAM AT THE AUDITORIUM

The program which John McCormack will sing at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium on Thursday night is the same one that the great tenor gave last month when he sang to an audience of 12,000 paid admissions in the new Cleveland Auditorium.

The assisting artist for the occasion will be Lauri Kennedy, cellist, whom the critics in reviewing McCormack's concert speak of most highly. Edwin Schneider, long associated with Mr. McCormack as accompanist, will again act in that capacity.

The program is one of great beauty and is skillfully arranged to show the wonderful talents of the great Irish tenor. In addition to the numbers listed below those who attend may anticipate the usual number of encores with the old time favorites, "Mother Macree," "Tumble Down Shack in Athlone," and others.

The program:

Sonata, A Minor (first movement) Grieg

Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Schneider

a. O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me (from Semie) Handel

b. Enjoy the Sweet Elysian Groves (from Alcibiades) Handel

Mr. McCormack

a. Adagio (cantabile) Turtell

b. Dragon Flies Zsolc

Mr. Kennedy

a. Die Liebe Melodien Schubert

b. Der Jüngling an der Quelle Schubert

c. To the Children, Bachman

d. She Not Passing Fair, Edgar

of the city showed more life during the first two hours than was apparent anywhere else, but although it might be presumed that the precinct in Ward 8, with booth at Westford and Marlborough streets, might attract a number of morning voters, the total poll there at 11:15 o'clock was only 78. At 11:30 o'clock, only 22 persons had voted at Precinct 3 of Ward 8 and just before 12 o'clock, the machine at the Ward 1 booth near the Edison school registered only 28. Similar reports were received from other sections of the city.

Despite the fact that very little election talk was heard about the streets, there was an under-current of feeling that Franklin A. Johnson would land one of the school committee places. His name appeared on slates and combinations more often than the other three. From Centralville came word that Mrs. Annie D. Donahue had put in a considerable amount of work which seemed destined to bear results. The absence of contests for ward councilor in Wards 6 and 7 is tending to keep the vote down in those two big districts.

The polls will remain open until 5 o'clock this evening and because of the short ballot and small number of names, it is expected that the complete tabulation will be known at least by 10:30 o'clock.

The only question on the ballot aside from the school board and ward councilor lists is relative to licensing the sale of non-intoxicating beverages. This question was placed on the ballot at the direction of the secretary of state.

The police arrangements for the day call three details of patrolmen into service and in all wards except 6, 7 and 8, two officers will be on duty in every precinct until after the vote is counted. In all, 52 men have been detailed by Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson and assigned by the board of election commissioners.

The first detail of 31 men reported at city hall at 9 a.m. and took the voting machines to the polling booths. This detail will remain on duty until 4:15 p.m. A second detail of 21 men reported at precinct locations at 10 a.m. and will remain on duty until all votes are counted and returned to the office of the election commission.

A third detail of 20 men will report at designated precincts at 4:15 p.m. and will remain on duty until polls close and ballots are counted from the box.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

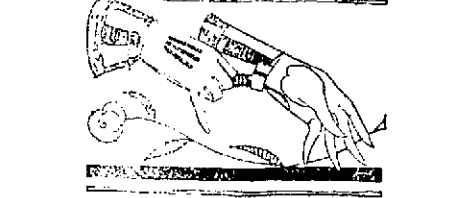

She Mixed Sulphur With it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mix the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Yeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Yeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Gray hair all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

MARDI GRAS IN AID OF CHRISTMAS TREE FUND

Associate hall will be the scene to-night of a merry gathering when the Broadway Social and Athletic club will hold a Mardi Gras carnival in aid of the annual Christmas tree fund. The committee in charge, working zealously with President William A. Walsh and the other officers, has arranged a very attractive program, one that is bound to give pleasure to old and young.

As the cause for which the affair is held is a most worthy one, many of the older residents of the Ave. Some of the Broadway club and scene of the organization's great welfare work, plan to turn out in large numbers.

The annual Christmas tree exercises of the Broadways are always looked forward to with pleasant anticipation by the youngsters of the neighborhood. The program calls for a two-day celebration around a huge Christmas tree placed on the North common. The night before, the tree is illuminated and a concert program given. Christmas day, Santa Claus takes charge of the program and distributes gifts and confections to the kiddies.

This year, the Broadways plan to make the affair even a greater success than in previous years and hence the holding of a series of pre-Christmas events, the first of which comes tonight.

TAX EXEMPTION AGAIN

New legislative sessions seldom feel it to be their bounden duty to attract attention somehow, even if it be along the old familiar line of securing the enactment of special legislation for a favored few. Now comes a state representative hailing from one section of the great Boston legislative district, who would revive the popular sport of exempting certain taxpayers from paying their local taxation taxes.

We wonder just why Representative Edward F. Wallace feels that a bill of his sponsoring, just filed in the house of representatives and calling for the exemption from Boston taxation of all dwelling houses erected in that city after March 1, of this year, should be acted upon and approved at this time. The proposed legislation would hardly result in any extended house-building operation in Greater Boston. Building costs are too high in the first place, and relieving builders from taxation for an indefinite period of time, would not start a building campaign of any great proportions, neither would it be likely to lower the price of house rentals at the present time.

Mr. Wallace is tackling a tender subject when he would so grant any class of citizens and relieve them of the taxation burdens that they should properly carry. These building is an investment pure and simple and those who select this mode of making money have no legal claim to exemption from taxation which would increase the burdens already too heavy upon other investors. The proposition is intended to encourage house building but the situation does not warrant such an extreme step.

FAKE DOCTORS

At least 25,000 bogus physicians and surgeons are "practicing medicine" in the United States, according to some investigators of medical diploma mills.

The figure is startling. Here is a major evil going along for years without the public suspecting it. Fortunately, it is a scandal that can be cleaned up quickly and thoroughly if the proper authorities so desire.

No matter how thoroughly it may be suppressed, however, this evil will grow up again like a weed unless the various associations of legitimate physicians and surgeons act more vigilantly as watchdogs. We believe the Hippocratic oath ethically requires such watchfulness.

It amazes you to find the medical profession honeycombed with untrained quacks. There far there is no evidence that there is any of them in Lowell. Do you stop to realize that every other line of human activity is similarly honeycombed with incompetents? Yes, and just as harmful to the community at large in many cases as the phony M.D. to his unfortunate victims.

Anyone with a sense of decency is appalled by the thought of an ignorant and unskilled faker "treating" sick people who need expert help. The fact that thousands of such quacks are at work is a revelation of the frightful things many men resort to in the mad scramble for money. There seems to be no limit to the depth of baseness to which some people will descend in order to obtain money. The quack doctors tamper with the lives of their patients and undoubtedly are responsible for numerous deaths by depriving them of proper medical or surgical treatment.

TAXATION OF TEXTILES

On Dec. 11 will open in Manchester, N. H., a most important hearing which has for its object the settlement of the claim of the Ameskeag Manufacturing company for abatement of taxes. The hearing will be followed with interest by textile manufacturers in other large New England communities.

The Ameskeag has presented two petitions, one for an abatement of taxes amounting to $157,044.62 for last year, and the second for an abatement of $298,044.23 for this year. The hearing will come before a board of referees.

The Manchester corporation has long contended that it has been taxed too heavily on real values by the city assessors. The controversy has been vigorously waged without any success in securing abatements to satisfy the company. The Ameskeag is understood to have ready for official inspection a carefully audited and authenticated revaluation of its great industrial properties, and will insist that its own estimates of property values be used in proportioning the taxation totals to be paid to the city.

The law department of the city will defend the municipal assessment so that interesting developments may be expected.

BIG TRUCK LIGHTS

There should be a heavy duty for anybody who leaves an automobile or worse still, a big truck, standing in the public street or highway at night without a red rear end light. In case of a truck, there should be a full light in front and rear which is stationary on such street or highway.

Many fatalities result from the standing of trucks on the highways without proper rear end lights. A serious case of this kind is now under investigation. There are many well known cases in which trucks have been allowed to stand on the highways without undergoing repairs without sufficient lights to indicate the danger of approaching vehicles. This is especially true, when a truck is stalled near a curve on the highway, so that its lights cannot be seen for any great distance ahead. It is to be hoped that the time will eventually come when the big freight trucks will have suitable roads provided for their own special use. At present conditions, they are a menace on the public highways, and it is only reasonable to insist that in charge of them shall take every precaution possible to prevent collisions and to indicate their

A Thought

Good Sole Leather

"Why do you no' buy your meat off me now?" asked a Glasgow butcher of one of his old customers who had recently taken to dealing with one of his competitors. "Well," replied the old woman, "the last I got you a pound has sold my bullock for me." "Why did you no' do it?" asked the butcher, sarcastically. "So I did, if I could have got back the gang through it," she replied.

No Market For It

The same was discussing an honest criticism, which he maintained, was a valuable commodity and all too rare. The group was not much interested. Let me read you this poem," said the sage. He produced a clipping. An ounce of honest criticism," he read, "is worth more than a pound of flattery." The sage sighed. How true this is," he declared. "Honest criticism may be valuable," responded the group, "but there's no market for it."

Clever Arbitrator

A man left his property to be equally divided between his two sons. Not being able to agree, they sought an arbitrator. He said to the older, "You are the older, are you not?" "Yes," was the answer. "So you shall divide the property." This pleased the older immensely. "You are the younger," continued the arbitrator, "so you shall have the first choice." This absolutely insured the most exact division that the wisdom of the birds could determine.

Only Loned Big

An Englishman went to Moscow to try to organize his firm's former business. He was astounded at the amount of money being kept in the house. Calling together the employees, he told them that the rules must go to the bank immediately and not remain to tempt burglars. The Russian foreman, anxious to help, ventured to have you to go to bank, excellency?" "Why, there must be about 2,000,000 rubles," "Pardon, excellency, but it will cost you more than that for cartage."

Gentle Insinuations

Somebody told me always to be cheerful. And never think a dark and gloomy thought. So when I met a man whose mood was awful, I was careful to say, "My laughter spoiled the sympathy he sought."

Then somebody told me always to be ready. To join in every sorrow of a friend. Acquaintance complained of gloom so gradually. That he lamely threatened in the end.

There's nothing to be gained by heeding chatter. And lowering manners not at all your own. The time for tears or laughter is a matter That each must settle for himself alone.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I have often wondered why a new court is not established in connection with the work of the Volstead act. Under the present legal system there seems to be considerable lost motion that could easily be eliminated. A man that cannot be indicted for selling liquor, or making liquor, or buying liquor, and federal agents being him before a United States commissioner. This commissioner has no trial power, in that he cannot pass sentence upon the guilty. His function is to determine whether or not sufficient probable cause is established by the federal agents to warrant holding the defendant for the federal court. Then he fixes bail and waits for justice, slow but certain, to continue his show march.

The federal courts, frequented nowadays for the most part by bootleggers, still operators and their ilk, have lost much of the prestige that once was theirs. They would compare unfavorably with a police court where prior to the enactment of the 18th amendment there was a certain dignity about them which could not be degraded. Cases which rightfully belong before the federal courts are crowded down or off the calendar in order that the local cases of undesirable citizens may be attended to. The dignity of the federal district court bench is suffering because of the new environment. In the future it is quite probable that men of the caliber of our present federal court judges will be hard to obtain because of the change in federal court atmosphere brought about by the workings of the prohibition law.

It strikes me that the logical thing to do is to confer trial power on the United States commissioners. Why should they not convict and sentence offenders. As it is, they hear all the evidence and then turn over the case to the federal court. Their only anxiety is for discharge defendants should they believe there is a lack of evidence sufficient to convict. The idea, presumably, is to lighten the court calendar by eliminating such cases.

This saving is small in comparison with what could be effected. If the commissioners were given power to fine and sentence, the federal courts would be cleared of much of this business and could proceed to function on more important matters to the good citizenry of the nation, as was and is intended that they should.

In Lowell as well as throughout the country most old time heavy stables have become garages. Even the old barn on the private estate houses features in most cases these days. In many cases the old barn, of the structure outside and in has been greatly changed but still some one thing gives away their original purpose.

This morning I was standing in front of the Open House and across the street is a modern garage, as up to the minute as can be found anywhere. It was a flatterer to the breeze from a fan atop the building. On the staff was a handsome gilded weather-vane. The design was not of a speedster auto or anything truck but of other days, a snappy high stepping horse and wagon. It was shining in the sunlight and didn't seem much out of place beside the modern garage that has in the last year taken place of it. It is a relic of the days when Edward R. Conant housed there his first spin and equipage over such in Lowell.

Whenever a man by women wear an inverted triangular rump-piece on their heads is beyond any man's comprehension. Perhaps, after thinking, an inverted triangle is one of those objects which has, somehow, grown, in time, and which has, in time, become a part of the modern woman's wardrobe. They are just as plain and as common as those old fashioned pointed shoes worn about 30 years ago. I saw a woman wearing an inverted triangle on her head. She was wearing a pointed hat, the same being a pointed hat, and she was wearing a pointed shoe. They may wear a pointed inverted triangle, but they will not wear a pointed shoe.

CIVIL WAR NURSE IS GREAT QUILT MAKER

No quilting party in modern Lowell is complete without the presence of the recognized champion of all feminine quiltmakers hereabouts—Mrs. Mary E. Smith, former Civil war army nurse—who has made so many quilts that she lost count long ago.

The latest Smith patchwork quilt with exquisite lining and lavender effects, oval decorations of, varied-colored cloths and expertly "lacked" together to make a wonderful creation of handstitching, is now the property of Woman's Relief corps, No. 174, of Framingham. It was won in a competitive contest participated in by all W.R.C. organizations in Massachusetts and great was the interest manifested in the winning of the Lowell-hand-made quilt. (Mrs. Smith calls it a comforter.)

The quilt, or comforter, goes to the home of Mrs. Elsie M. Dunaway, a past state department leader and past commander of the Framingham corps.

Mrs. Smith is one of the best known veteran Civil war nurses in New England. She celebrated her 82d birthday on Nov. 3, or rather her fraternal birthday in both the G.A.R. and the W.V.R., state and city organizations celebrated it for her. She was remembered with numerous gifts and two bouquets, with a cyclamen plant for the Smith home bay windows at 116 Congress street.

The list of surviving Civil war nurses is pitifully small today, but Mrs. Smith is vigorous and active.

Quilting has been a hobby with the ex-army nurse since she was five years of age. She has made so many quilts that she can't tell you the exact total now. Some of her quilts and comforters have gone all over the western hemisphere. Her rugs are long wearing and still in vogue in many Lowell homes also.

The expert rugmaker is in very good health today and has numerous home callers every week. She is now actively engaged in assisting James A. Garfield W.R.C., No. 33, in preparing for the coming corps election. Candidates will be decided upon at the corps meeting place, 202 Merrimack street, Thursday evening. Mrs. Alice Schofield, president of Garfield corps for the past two years, in very popular and has performed her duties in a way which has given general satisfaction. It is said that she may be re-elected by acclamation at the coming corps business meeting.

Corps 33 recently celebrated its 40th anniversary with appropriate exercises attended by members and friends of the patriotic fraternal order. Mrs. Smith of Congress street was the third woman to sign her name to Corps 33's charter, founding it and it has remained there until today.

The annual state department fair was held this year late in October. The Lowell army nurse's quilt was one of the prize attractions and was responsible for the collection of a large amount of money for distribution among disabled members of Woman's Relief corps organizations in many sections of Massachusetts.

Every voter today has the privilege of voting only for two candidates for the school board and one for the city council. Yet in doing that duty well, he or she will have performed a patriotic service.

Oh what can be worse than the bore
Who once was a Wow with the ladies,
But isn't a Wow any more?

I'm making no comments adverse on
The old boy whose tresses are gray
But who, though a middle-aged person,
Is merry and jolly and gay;
The butt of this bitter tirade is
The goof—there are samples galore—
Who once was a Wow with the ladies,
But isn't a Wow any more.

The airs that in youngsters are charming,
In him are a subject for jest;
His leers and his winks are alarming,
In fact he's a terrible pest;
How tragic this once polished blade is,
This Has Been whom naught can restore,
Who once was a Wow with the ladies,
But isn't a Wow any more.

LOWELL FANS AT LYNN BOXING CARNIVAL

This city was well represented at the boxing carnival under the auspices of the Kassio Athletic club in Lynn, last night. In the main event, Jack Schombert of Milwaukee, received the verdict over Victor Hirsch of Malden. On two previous occasions, Hirsch defeated the Milwaukee brawler.

In the semi-final, Steve Adams of Chicago, who fought Billy Murphy here recently, was one of the contestants.

CLUB CHANGES NAME

The Bridge Street Social club, at a meeting last night, voted to change its name to the Centralville East End club and nominated the following officers for the elections which will take place on December 21. President, Ralph Holt and Robert Ladd; vice president, Bernard Golden and James Winder; recording secretary, Charles Gilbride; financial secretary, George Lameret; treasurer, Joseph Carley; janitor, Victor (Gardner, John Roach and James Duffy; trustees, Frederick Gregoire, John Farley, John Eastman, William Kelly, Samuel Forsythe and John Roche; warden, Charles Armstrong.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Miss Lowell, in the person of Miss Sophie Whinewalk, who represented our city at the Milwaukee national beauty contest held in New York last Wednesday, has returned home a happy young miss, after spending four days of pleasure, luxury and wealth in the great metropolis. Although Miss Lowell had a perfectly lovely time, and even though her chaperone, Mrs. Gelat, a wealthy woman of the big city entertained her in a most luxurious manner, Miss Whinewalk says "There's no place like home."

SEE THE POINT!

The Sun has by far the largest circulation of any Lowell paper. Ninety per cent of Sun readers do not read any other Lowell newspaper. See the point, Mr. Advertiser!

Ask Any Victrola Home in This Vicinity

whether it hasn't been a happier home musically since it contains the world's greatest musical instrument. Ask about our staff, our store, our stock and the quality of our service. The answers will show you what a great deal of enjoyment you can get out of a small investment when you own a Victrola,—the instrument which keeps on making you happier every time you bring home a new Victor record. We have a large stock of both. Come in and hear them together.

This Little World

BY CASUAL STROLLERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Small-town spirit permeates New York. Few natives here will ever rise to defend the greater city when they hear it maligned. But let anyone cast aspersions on their favorite Yorkville, Borough Park, or Williamsburg, and he will precipitate a storm.

For the unit of loyalty here seems to be the neighborhood. In many cases this is limited to one block, where a thousand or more tenement dwellers learn to know each other's business at the corner grocers or butchers.

There is no old store around which to gather winter evenings. But there is a counter on which to lean. And each morning when the housewives come down for their day's marketing, they get—and give—bits of the day's gossip.

Before the day's over there is little that they don't know about each other. New Yorkers don't go in much for walking. They seem to prefer the crowded subway and jammed elevated trains. On Riverside Drive, one of the finest walks in the world, overlooking the Hudson and facing the Palisades on the Jersey shore, there were nine times as many autos as pedestrians one beautiful morning last week on the esplanade stretch between 116th and 120th streets.

The flapper girl of Gotham is giving way to the Ritz girl. No more does she saunter abroad with long coat open, muffler flying and stumps hat tilted at a rakish angle. Now she is growing up and she wants the whole world to know. She wears expensive fur coats bobbed at the waist, Parisian hat, or good imitation, that costs more than the whole flapper outfit cost a year ago. And she is developing an intolerance for the younger girls who are still in the flapper stage.

No longer are flappers forced to think up original toasts such as: "To the ladies!" "Here's to crime!" "Drink it down!" and the other banalities which have been stock phrases of conviviality. For 1923 Prohibition New York has hit upon a new toast that is going the rounds. Glasses are raised in speak-easies, private homes or clubs to the simple toast of: "Gurgle Gurgle."

Old-fashioned turkey dinners that mother used to make seem to be passing from vogue. Most of them have given way to table d'hôte meals dished out at popular-priced restaurants. On Thanksgiving Day it was possible to dine one's way into the restaurant along upper Broadway only by standing in a long line waiting for his next, which sometimes didn't come for two hours or more.

Subsidence of land in Cheshire, England, due to underground workings, have brought into existence lakes 50, 90 and 100 feet deep, where once there was solid earth.

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and ninety per cent. of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper.

The citizens of Lowell have a duty to perform today in electing two members of the school board, who will not be controlled by the anti-Molloy clique and who will stand for the best interests of the schools.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

BY MARCUS A. DOW

Secretary, Safety Bureau, New York Police Dept., Vice President, National Safety Council in Charge of Public Safety.

Hurry is at the bottom of most accidents which are attributed to other causes. It causes a steady toll of accidental deaths and injuries in our factories, in our streets and in our homes. Hurry is one reason why accidents are more frequent in America than among the more leisurely Europeans.

To save two minutes' time a workman will climb in a dangerous place instead of getting a ladder; a pedestrian crosses the traffic against the signal; a motorist dashes past a school zone at a dangerous rate of speed, or at home we neglect to put ashes on the front steps.

An accident from neglect of these precautions may cause us to lose as many months as there are minutes saved in failing to correct these conditions. But supposing we are lucky and nothing happens? What use do we make of the time saved. We may save a few seconds by being careless, but we waste hours in other ways which bring us neither profit nor real enjoyment.

Did you ever stop to think how little time is really saved in speeding? Twenty miles an hour is the speed limit in most cities. At 25 miles an hour you save 30 seconds in going one mile or six minutes in going ten miles. At a higher speed you save more time, of course, but the risk increases in much greater proportion. You may lose more time telling it to the judge

The gold degree was conferred on five members of Loyal Wampanoag Lodge at its regular meeting in Grafton hall last night. The degree team of the local lodge conferred the degree and many guests from other lodges were present to assist in the degree work. Sunday morning, Wampanoag Staff Association held its regular meeting in the same hall, with President Albert West in the chair. Considerable business was transacted and officers for the following six months nominated.

Delegations from Oberlin, Centralville and Highland lodges, I.O.O.F., attended the regular meeting of Shawtown lodge, I.O.O.F., held Saturday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Billerica. The second degree work was performed by the degree staff of Oberlin. In a most impressive manner, refreshments were served following the business meeting and District Deputy George N. Holden and the noble grand of the visiting orders addressed the gathering. Considerable business

A Quick Response from Sunbeam Warm-Air Heating

A little child can operate the Sunbeam Upstairs Register.

With a Sunbeam Warm-Air Heating system in your home you can get a remarkably quick heating result. When you want more warmth—or less warmth—you simply turn a single, convenient wall regulator. Room temperatures are quickly changed all over the house.

Sunbeam Quick-Action Heating is a thing you'll particularly appreciate on raw, damp mornings in spring or fall or on any day when sudden temperature changes come. And, bear in mind, Sunbeam Upstairs Control does away with all necessity of running up and down the cellar stairs or from room to room to regulate drafts and dampers.

Come in. Let us give you an estimate on a Sunbeam Furnace suited to your requirements. We have a wide variety of size and type and Pipeless types.

DOWELL NAVY CLUB

MEMBERS HAPPY

The second successful speaker of the Dowell Navy Club was held last evening at Alhambra club, with an attendance of about 150 and good presentation. Figuratively speaking, they had had a whale of a time. The speakers were kept at all hours of the evening and line program of entertainment. A band played in rear of luncheon with their accompaniment of ballad songs. The "Charlie Brown" and old guitar with the members, gave vocal solos and performed recent hits. The Emerson Quart, which amazed the audience at the showing "Powder River," was present, and to members, Gault, Harvey, Tessier and Gault, went through their presentation of the songs. Sales by Sam Emerson, Horatio Leggett and Martin Wells, and a long string of character portraits by Andy Bourke, rounded out this part of the program. There were very hot boxing bouts for the behoof of the old sailors. The prize money was presented by several boys home on leave, among them, a Canadian, who recently flew over Canada in the Shenandoah and Chief Warrant Officer Fredrick of the receiving station. Fred Emerson, skipper of the club, was busy attending to the ship and keeping the affair moving smoothly.

Speeches are being considered for the holding of a naval ball later on in the season, but notice will not be taken until the next meeting, Monday, December 10.

BREAKING AND ENTERING

Ferdinand Cote Pleads Guilty of Breaking and Entering and Larceny

Ferdinand Cote, 29, who was arrested by Lieut. Maher, Sergt. Dwyer and Officer Lapan yesterday noon for alleged breaking and entering and larceny, was arraigned in district court this morning and pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the store of Joseph Spencer in Lawrence street, and stealing a quantity of cigars, cigarettes and money, which were found in his lodging house in Merrimack street at the time of his arrest. To allow the police to investigate other breaks believed to be traceable to Cote, defendant was continued in bonds of $1000 until Dec. 11.

WILL HOLD HEARING ON OLD AGE PENSION

A commission appointed by Governor Channing H. Cox to investigate the advisability of this state providing a pension for the aged was in communication with the mayor's office this morning, in regard to the possibility of holding an open house in this city in connection with their work. After explaining the purpose of the hearing, it was decided to hold such a hearing in city hall, on either December 13 or 14.

INCREASE IN BUILDING ACTIVITIES CONTINUE

The month of November showed a continuance of the building boom which has been manifest in Lowell all this year. During the month 101 permits were issued by the superintendent of public buildings, 63 of which were for new structures and 34 for the purpose of alterations. The total amount of money involved was $251,350, of which $250,230 represented new buildings and $1,120 was the cost of repairs.

A man giving the name of Alex Korzon and address as New York city, presented himself in a Charles street store yesterday afternoon and started the proprietor with the information that he had invented a machine capable of manufacturing real money, and said he would let him in on it if he would accompany him to Boston with $2000. The proprietor told him to return this morning, naming a certain hour.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Irregularly higher prices characterized the opening of today's stock market. U. S. Steel and Baldwin opened fractionally higher, as did a number of other ordinarily active industrials.

Another flood of offerings came into the market in the first half hour, and turned prices downward again. Ravison Chemical broke three points and American Smelter Tobacco, Marquette, Lackawanna, railroad and Gulf States Steel, 1 1/2, 1 1/2, Baldwin, Studbaker and American car sold a point below yesterday's final figures.

Development of pronounced strength by some of the railroad shares, especially Pennsylvania, Chesapeake & Ohio and New York, Chicago & St. Louis, together with lower prices for oil and time money, halted the active selling movement before noon and a number of issues rallied a point or so on active short covering.

Special stocks were run up sharply after mid day, but the usual leaders showed but little variation from the prices prevailing in noon. Houston Oil touched 5 1/2, compared with 4 1/2 early low of 5 1/2. All of the Market Street Railway issues advanced briskly, the second preference, Baltimore & Potomac, United Railways, preferred and Martin Harris were also substantially higher.

The closing prices of irregular, Public utility shares were marked up during the late dealings and General Electric also was strong. United Railway Investment preferred advanced 1 point, General Electric 3 and Brooklyn Union Gas 1/2.

TWO MEN ASPHYXIATED

LONG BEACH, N. Y., Dec. 4.—James Thompson, former New York state senator, and Charles Smith, his real estate partner, today were asphyxiated in their office here. A third member of the firm, James Middleton, also was overcome, but was recovering in a hospital. The accident is believed to have resulted when one of the three who maintained sleeping quarters at the rear of their offices returned to bed after putting coffee to boil on a gas plate. It is believed that the coffee boiled over and extinguished the flames, flooding the room with gas.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. The persistent whining of a mongrel puppy early today led to discovery of a family of four overcome by gas in an apartment in Brooklyn. Anthony Antonelli, and his wife, son and daughter were revived with a pulmonator.

APOLOGIZES TO PUBLISHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Representative Nelson of Wisconsin, chairman of the house insurgent group, today published a letter of apology to Frank B. Noyes, publisher of the Washington Star, for a statement issued last week by the executive committee of the group in which it was charged that Secretary Mellon's plan of income tax reduction, would favorably affect the publisher and that his paper had "aggressively supported" the proposal and "denounced" those who opposed it. "We take pleasure in informing you that we have found no statements of the nature referred to in your paper," Representative Nelson wrote to Mr. Noyes. "As to your income we readily accept your statement and on behalf of the executive committee, I wish to express to you our profound regret that we erroneously included the Star and its publisher in the statement, and I herewith tender to you the sincere apology of the executive committee for the mistake."

MAY ALLISON SEEKS DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 4.—May Allison, motion picture actress, has brought suit for divorce here against her husband, Robert E. Reel. She charges cruelty and inhuman treatment. The husband who is known on the stage as Robert E. Ellis is charged in the complaint with calling Miss Allison names too indecent to be mentioned in the complaint; with flying into rage; with staying away nights and refusing to tell her where he had been; and with threatening to attack her. Miss Allison and Reel were married, the complaint states, on Nov. 25, 1920, in Greenwich, Conn., and were separated about Nov. 5 of this year.

APPLICANTS FOR EMPLOYMENT

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Marked decreases in employers' demands for labor and in the number of positions filled are reported for November by the state employment bureau here. The former numbered 1299 against 1715 in October and 1491 in November, 1922, and the latter totalled 116, against 1379 in October and 1137 in November, 1922. Among the applicants for employment were 1040 former soldiers and 660 former sailors. The American Legion's employment bureau has been incorporated under the state office.

CITY OF IGUALA CAPTURED

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4.—Federal forces, commanded by Gen. Francisco Urbalejo, have captured the city of Iguala, which Gen. Romulo Figueroa had occupied. Not a shot was fired and the town was abandoned by the rebels, who thereupon marched to Cuahuahutla. Here they met with strong resistance by the loyal troops and the inhabitants of the town, and were forced to withdraw. The war department reports that Gen. Figueroa, unable to reach Chilpancingo, has established his headquarters in a small village midway between that town and Iguala. The men under his command are said to be deserting.

50 MADE HOMELESS BY FIRE

LUDLOW, Dec. 4.—Fifty persons, occupants of an eight-tronment wooden block, were made homeless and four persons were injured when fire swept the building today. Mike Evrshanks, a local wrestler and member of the fire department, was struck by a toppling chimney and stunned. Hardly had he resumed fire fighting at another point when a second chimney fell, the bricks striking him. He refused to quit work.

PRES. FAUNCE REFUSES TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES TO ANSWER DR. SHIELDS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 4.—President William H. Faunce, D.D., president of Brown university, this morning declined to reply to the attack upon him by Dr. T. H. Shields, president of the Baptist Union of North America, in which Dr. Shields said the conferring of an honorary degree by the Masters university of Toronto upon Dr. Faunce was a disgrace to the Baptist denomination. Dr. Faunce said: "The Baptist Bible union now holding meetings in New York represents a novel movement on the part of high new schools and new missionary societies which shall be centers of rigid and reactionary doctrine. It seems likely to smother of from the Baptists and establish a new denomination in close sympathy with the Seced. and Adventists. All denominations have their difficulties in these chaotic days. The only remedy is for Christian men quietly to live their Christian life and believe the morrow sun will rise."

HERON WILL LEAD 1924 H. S. FOOTBALL SQUAD

The election of a captain to lead the 1924 high school football squad produced a surprise at the close of school this afternoon when Frank Heron was chosen by the 27 men to direct next fall's activities. Heron just finished his first year on the squad, having proved successful as a pivot man and a versatile backfield star. His name was not mentioned in the list of possibilities previous to the election. The successful George "Babe" Sheahan, who played his last game for the Red and Gray against Lawrence high Thanksgiving day.

HOW TO PREVENT SOFT COAL STRIKE IN APRIL

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Consumers, by storing coal, can help prevent a bituminous strike next April, when the present wage agreements expire, F. G. Tryon and W. E. McInerney of the United States geological survey, declared in a report made public today by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The report was the result of a nationwide study of the coal situation.

"Consumers collectively have the power to make or break a market," said the report. "The relation between the consumers' reserve and the price is almost mathematical. A reserve below 20,000,000 tons indicates a sellers' market; 20,000,000 tons indicate a buyers' market and above 40,000,000 tons indicates a buyers' market in which salesmen again take the road and begin to solicit business on the consumer's terms."

WANT FORD'S NAME ON DEMOCRATIC BALLOT

ADRIAN, Mich., Dec. 4.—Petitions to have the name of Henry Ford placed on the democratic presidential preference primary ballot in Michigan next spring, have made their appearance here.

Initiated by Edward Freusdorf, known throughout Michigan as a democratic wheelhorse, one of the petitions is in a garage owned by S. W. Raymond, a brother-in-law of Mr. Ford; another is in the possession of James W. Helms, who opposed Ford for the democratic senatorial nomination in 1912, while a third is in the possession of Henry L. Stearns, former chairman of the democratic committee of Lawrence county. Mr. Freusdorf's home.

State leaders in the democratic organization thus far have withheld their endorsement of the movement.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. Operating officials of the lines of the New York Central Railroad System, headed by John G. Walther, vice president in charge of personnel, today went into conference with officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen on the request by the union men for increased wages.

Jack Daw's Adventure. Chapter 24

"A submarine" shouted the little adventurer. And of course, the cry woke Jinks, Nick and Bibbs. The four sailors, followed by Flip, then ran down to the beach and started waving their hats and coats. Then the submarine fired a gun. "They see us," shouted Jinks, in glee.

The hatch of the undersen boat then sprung open and two men hopped out on deck. A small boat was pulled to them and they rowed ashore. Jack told them of his adventure and they explained that Gold Island was a very dangerous place. "You'd better leave here," they said.

"That's just what we want to do," replied Jack. "All right," said the submarine man, "come with us and we'll take you all back home." So Jack, Jinks, Bibbs, Nick and Flip were soon sailing away from Gold Island. Jack Daw's next adventure is in the Tower of Ticks.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"HAVE YOU GUESSED IT YET?" ASKED THE RIDDLE LADY.

This was the first riddle that the Riddle Lady in Riddle Land asked after the Twins arrived with Humphrey Dumpty:

"Sing a song of sixpence, a pocket full of rye,
The bird I wish to speak of was never in a pie.
She never built a straw nest, she knows not how to sing,
And yet she is a little bird and worthy of a king."

"This gallant bird, dear people, is worth a crown of gold," said the Riddle Lady. "But don't get a feather, you'll think that rather funny!"

Yet she has wings—quite large ones— that spread out when she flies, and the longest tail you ever saw, she pulls all through the skies."

"Have you guessed it yet?" asked the Riddle Lady.

"No," cried all the people of Riddle Land, peering their eyes. "Tell us some more."

So the Riddle Lady went on:

"Sometimes she does a tail spin and often makes a dive,
And flies with ease quite inside down like nothing else alive,
She soars right over mountains, and sails across the sea,
And roars across the desert like a hundred thousand bees."
